In an effort to assist in handling administratively the reams of material being submitted to Memphis Division as office of origin, it is requested all offices in submission of messages use caption which will aid in handling paper. For example, should your office have investigation to report in connection with a specific suspect it would aid if, before entering into the body of text, you would utilize sub-heading after reference, such as "SUSPECT - JOHN ALLEN DOE," or another appropriate caption might be "LAUNDRY CHECKS."

Suitable sub-headings on communications will greatly facilitate the handling of material. Please comply,

Clark Says FBI Search Around Clock

(C) 1968, New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Ramsey Clark said Friday night that it was "impossible" to predict when the assassin of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. would be arrested, although there was hope that it would be soon.

In a statement issued through the Justice Department's press office, Clark reported that the Federal Bureau of Investigation was diverting every possible resource to the pursuit of the killer.

Around-the-clock work by investigators, the attorney general said, has turned up "very substantial" physical evidence about the assassination, which took place in Memphis on April 4.

Earlier Friday, an Ohio congressman charged that the FBI had pursued Dr. King's assassin in a manner that "hardly has been reassuring to a tense and troubled nation."

The congressman, Rep. Charles W. Whalen Jr., a Republican, urged that the FBI "set the record straight" and clear up the "confusion that has been created in the aftermath of this tragic event."

Whalen asserted that there had been discrepancies in official statements relating to the assassination and suspects. He noted that initially it was stated that federal agents were in hot pursuit of the assassin and that an arrest was imminent.

"Then," Whalen said, "we are told that the assassin is 'on the run' and that 'the trail has lengthened.'

"The next development was the promise of a picture of a suspect.

"Then we see a picture based on an artist's conception published in our newspapers, only to have federal authorities say that no such sketch was authorized by the FBI."

The Congressman recalled that the public first was told that the assassination did not appear to involve a conspiracy.

"But then we learn," he said, "that misleading reports were broadcast on Memphis police radio frequencies which confounded pursuers and suggested there was a conspiracy."

The confusion about the King slaying somehow occurred, Whalen said, "after all the agonizing examination of the Warren Commission investigation of the Kennedy assassination in 1963." The Congressman concluded:

"A federal investigation that inspires at least a modicum of confidence would go a long way toward quieting the seething unrest which continues to permeate the nation."

Atlanta Cabbies Identify King Slaying Suspect

(C) 1968, New York Times News Service

ATLANTA — Two Atlanta cab drivers Tuesday identified a sketch of a man believed to be Eric Starvo Galt, an elusive 36-year-old white man sought by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for questioning in the April 4 slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The drivers, both employed by the Atlanta Million Cab Co., said that they drove a man resembling the sketch to and from Atlanta's hippy neighborhood on the day after King was shot to death on the balcony of a Memphis motel.

FBI agents, who had been trying to trace Galt for more than a week, showed the two drivers a full-face sketch of a man they did not identify. The FBI refused to comment, but the sketch apparently was the same one which was identified in Birmingham as Eric Galt by a rooming house manager.

A similar sketch has been shown by FBI agents to hundreds of persons all through the South during the past week, but so far no trace of Galt has been reported.

One of the cab drivers said that he picked up the man in the sketch at 14th and Peachtree in Atlanta and drove him only two blocks, to 12th, where the man suddenly asked to be let out. The shortness of the trip, the driver said, caused him to remember the passenger.

The other driver said that he drove the man in the sketch on the night of April 5 to the corner of 13th and Crescent, a block west of Peachtree.

After showing the sketch to the two drivers, the FBI agents departed but returned later to check records of the cab company.
