AARON ISAAC LOFTON was interviewed at Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation, Pascagoula, Mississippi. He advised he has been employed there since July, 1965, and that he resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. AARON A. LOFTON on Martin Bluff Road, Gautier, Mississippi. He has long been interested in ballroom dancing and worked as a dancing instructor at the Arthur Murray Dance Studio in New Orleans, Louisiana from about January to July, 1958. He then went to Jacksonville, Florida, where he taught dancing at the Fred Astair Studio for about one year beginning about July, 1958. While in Jacksonville, he began a course in court reporting, but dropped out of this course and entered a school for hair styling. After completing this course, he worked as a professional hair stylist in Atlanta, Georgia from about 1959 to 1963 when he went to California. He worked at Anaheim, California and Los Angeles as a hair stylist until he returned to Mississippi and obtained employment at Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation in 1965.

LOFTON said the names JOHN WILLARD and HARVEY LOWMEYER or LOWMYER meant nothing to him. He was shown two artist's conceptions of two white males. He said he does not recall ever having known anyone who closely resembled either of these.

LOFTON was asked whether he had known anyone named GALT. He said he feels sure he has never known anyone by this name. He said the name is very familiar to him, as he is familiar with the character in the novel "Atlas Shrugged" who was called GALT, and he does not recall ever coming across that name again until very recently when the name appeared in the national press in connection with the murder of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

LOFTON advised that on the day KING was killed, he worked at Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation and went home at about 3:30 p.m. He first heard of the shooting on television that evening and later the same evening he went to the home of BEN WOOD, Gautier, Mississippi, to play poker. While there, he learned that KING had died.

LOFTON furnished the following details of his background:

He was born in West Lincoln Community, Lincoln County, Mississippi on [REDACTED]. During World War II, his father, AARON ALTON LOFTON, worked for the Ross Gravel Company near Pitkin, Louisiana, and he believes he went to the Sand Hill rural school.

Still during the War, his family moved to De Ridder, Louisiana where his father worked for a gravel company. He believes they moved back to Lincoln County for a short time. Then to Baton Rouge, Louisiana, where his father worked for the Standard Oil Refinery from about late 1944 to early 1945.

The family moved to Natchez, Mississippi in about 1945 and stayed for about one year. They then moved to Summitt, Mississippi where they remained until AARON finished the eighth grade in the Spring of 1949. The family then moved to Hazelhurst, Mississippi, where his father worked as a mechanic in a clothing factory. AARON attended the Hazelhurst High School, graduating in May, 1953.

JN 157-9586

AARON left the family home in Mississippi in May, 1953 and moved to Jackson where he attended Draughn's Business College for six months. He lived then at the Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA), then at a rooming house near the YMCA. Then in the Fall of 1953, he moved back to Summitt, Mississippi and stayed with his parents until January, 1955, when he went into the United States Army. During this period from late 1953 to the Fall of 1954, he worked at the McComb Manufacturing Company, MC Comb, Mississippi. In the Fall of 1954, he entered Southwest Mississippi Junior College and attended one semester before going into the Army.

During his Army career, he first went to Fort Jackson, South Carolina from January to April, 1955. Then he went to Fort Devens, Massachusetts from April to October, 1955. Then to Brookley Field, Mobile, Alabama for about one week. Then to the Panama Canal Zone from October, 1955 to October, 1957. In October, 1957, he was transferred to the Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington, D. C., where he stayed for two weeks being treated for a disease of the ear. He was then released to inactive duty and went to his parent's home, who had now moved to a residence near McComb, Mississippi. He was placed in inactive duty at this time and remained in the Reserves until he had completed a total of eight years service. He received an honorable discharge in 1962. He said this discharge was upon his completion of his military obligation and was not due to disability or disciplinary action. He said he was released from active duty a few weeks early because of his ear problem.

He stayed at his parent's home from October to November, 1957, then went to New Orleans, Louisiana, where he resided with a friend, JAMES VAN, an employee of WWL Television Station, on West Plum Street, from November, 1957 to January, 1958, and was employed as a sales clerk by D H HOLMES Department Store. He had met JAMES VAN through a mutual Army friend, ROBERT BARBER.

In January, 1958, he moved to a location on St. Ann Street in the French Quarter, exact address unrecalled and at about that time obtained a job teaching dancing in the Arthur Murray Studio. He left this job and this residence on about July 4, 1958 and moved to Jacksonville, Florida.

In Jacksonville, Florida, he rented a cottage with an old Army friend, ROBERT J. BARBER. This cottage, exact address unrecalled, was owned by an attorney named DOUGLAS. He went to work at Fred Astair's Studio in July, 1958 and continued there until November, 1958. From about March, 1958, he was part-time employed and attended school at the Stenographer's Institute for Court Reporting for about one month and then he transferred to the American Hair Styling Academy owned by MICHAEL ANGELO GAGLRANO until November, 1959.

In November, 1959, he moved to Atlanta, Georgia and again stayed with ROBERT BARBER, whose mother had purchased a house there. He stayed at this residence, 1164 Ogilvie Drive, for about two months. He said that BARBER is now manager of a prominent clothing store at Charlotte, North Carolina. This store, name unrecalled, has a principal branch or main store in Atlanta.

He lived at 343 8th Street, Atlanta from February, 1961 to the Fall of 1961 in an apartment he shared with JAMES LINDLEY who he met at this apartment building. Both he and LINDLEY moved to 1284 Piedmont in the Fall of 1961 and stayed until January, 1962. They then moved to 602 Ansley Forest

Drive, where they lived from January, 1962 to September, 1962. LOFTON then went to California, but LINDLEY remained and probably still lives in the same apartment. LINDLEY was employed as an estimator for the Mead Company in Atlanta.

During the period LOFTON lived in Atlanta, he worked as a hair stylist for Ricardo's Beauty Salon, 1738 Peachtree Street for about one year. Then at Rich's Department Store Salon for about one year, then at the Chalet Salon, 2175 Cheshire Boulevard, for two or three months. Then back to Rich's Department Store from about March to October, 1962, when he moved to Los Angeles.

On arriving in Los Angeles, he lived in a motel for about three weeks while obtaining a beauty operators license, and received his mail at 8611 Truxton Avenue, Los Angeles, which was address of the Weschester International Beauty College, where he took a refresher course to obtain his license. He then lived at 103 Autumn Drive, Anaheim, California from About November, 1962 to July, 1963, and worked at a small shop owned by JAMES VICTOR, who operated the above mentioned school.

He then moved to Los Angeles, 924 Hancock Avenue, and worked for another shop owned by JAMES VICTOR.

He then moved to 1231 North Sweetzer Avenue, Los Angeles and lived there from October, 1964 to February, 1965, and worked in the beauty salon at May Company Department Store. Then in about February, 1965, he moved back to his parent's home at McComb, Mississippi. He noted that between his residence at Anaheim and Los Angeles, he went back to Atlanta for about six weeks and stayed at his old residence there.

At McComb, he worked for the Howell Motor Company selling Volkswagon from February, 1965 to April or May, 1965 and quit due to difficulty with uclers. He said he was employed until about July, 1955 and he and his family moved to Pascagoula, Mississippi, where his parents had previously purchased property. They lived in a residence on United States Highway 90 in Gautier west of Pascagoula for about two months. Then the family moved to 1915 Ferry, Moss Point, Mississippi, until July, 1966, when they moved into a new home which they had built on their property at Gautier, Mississippi.

LOFTON was employed by Ingalls Shipbuilding Corporation in July, 1965 and attended the Man Power Development and Training School operated by that company until November, when he went to work. He has continued his employment there to the present time and is employed in the testing laboratory in the welding department.

LOFTON said that he moved and changed occupations often between the time he was released from military service to 1965 because he was footloose and enjoyed moving around. He said he chose to go to Jacksonville, Florida because his friend, ROBERT BARBER, was there and that he moved on to Atlanta because BARBER had moved to Atlanta before him and had informed him that the hair styling field was good in Atlanta. He said while in Atlanta, he met JAMES VICTOR, who owns several beauty salons in California, at a hair dressing show in Atlanta and that VICTOR asked him to move to California. He said he left the hair styling occupation in 1965 for numerous reasons, some of which were it was an unstable business, he had developed ulcers, and from the tension of trying to please so many women and further that his family wanted him to return home.

LOFTON stated that during the periods he lived in New Orleans, Jacksonville, Atlanta and California, he could not recall knowing anyone well who was strongly racist or rabidly right wing. He said he is a member of the Young Republicans and while in Los Angeles, was actually working for GOLDWATER. In this capacity, he casually met numerous people who were rabidly anti-GOLDWATER and numerous other people who were rabidly anti-Communist, but that he was never close to them and did not really know them. He said that he still belongs to the Young Republicans and is County Chairman of the organization in Jackson County, Mississippi. He said this is a small unit and he knows of no one connected with it who has radical or violent views. He said the only other organizations he belongs to are the American Welding Society and the Little Theater in Pascagoula.

Regarding his foreign travel, LOFTON advised that he visited Niagara Falls, Canada, from July 2-4, 1955. He went with some military friends to visit while assigned to Fort Devens, Massachusetts.

He took a vacation trip from April 15, to May 1, 1967 to Mexico. He drove by automobile with NORWOOD BROWN, who owns Norwood Music Store in Savannah, Georgia, BOB HOPPER, a casual acquaintance who worked for a railroad at Atlanta, and BILL (last name unknown), a friend of BROWN from Savannah. He said they entered Mexico at Brownsville, Texas, having obtained a passport in Atlanta. They traveled through the northern portion of Mexico visiting Tosco, Acapulco, Mexico City and some small towns. They left Mexico at Laredo, Texas and drove back to Atlanta. They traveled in a new Ford convertible owned by BOB HOPPER. He said in 1965 he made a one day trip into Encenado, Mexico from Los Angeles, a boarder town, just for a visit. He said he spoke some Spanish which he learned in the Canal Zone. He attended night school at Balboa Junior College there.

He said he had his Southwest Junior College credits transferred to this school. He also had his credits sent to Los Angeles City College where he enrolled, but did not complete three liberal arts courses. In August, 1967, he called CHARLES BRELAND, Registrar at Southwest Junior College and asked him to send his transcript to him, which he needed to attend Jackson County Junior College. He said he has not been on the campus of Southwest Junior College since 1965. LOFTON said he also had his credits sent to the Memphis

Academy of Arts in about 1957 or 1958 on the recommendation of ROBERT BARBER who is originally from Jackson, Tennessee, but that he did not attend this school. He has passed through Memphis about three times, but has no contacts there and has no relatives there.

He said he traveled in Mexico and from Jacksonville to Atlanta and Los Angeles and then Jackson, Tennessee where BARBER had lived, in 1967 went to Omaha, Nebraska to attend a Young Republican convention.

He said that he owns a 1968 Volkswagon fast-back which he purchased in December, 1967, and he previously owned a 1967 Volkswagon Square-back. He owns no other cars.

He said he owns a .22 caliber revolver with a four inch barrel which he purchased at Gibson's Discount Center in McComb, Mississippi in 1968, but does not recall the brand name. He owns no other gun, but his father has several sporting guns including a shotgun and a .22 rifle, but no high powered rifle.

He said his hobbies are hunting, fishing, the Little Theater and dancing.

He said that his friends are Mr. and Mrs. JOHN GAUTIER, Mr. GAUTIER is an attorney in Pascagoula, and his wife is an officer of the Young Republicans; Mr. and Mrs. BEN WOOD, who live in Gautier, Mississippi, Mr. WOOD works for Phelps Jewelry Store; and also JIM and GRACE WILSON, WILSON is night superintendent of the Jackson Grain Elevator.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date April 20, 1968

Mrs. VIRGINIA RAY, home address 944 Inge Street, Jackson, Mississippi, furnished the following information:

On the evening of September 5, 1967, in the early evening hours, VIRGINIA UMFRESS (RAY), was at her place of employment, the Rainbow Inn, Saultillo, Mississippi, talking to the bartender, LAWRENCE WEBB and a customer whom she met for the first time by the name of JAMES RAY.

After drinking one and one-half Budweiser beers, VIRGINIA UMFRESS said the next thing she can recall is coming out of the Court House at Jasper, Alabama, the next day around noontime with a marriage license in her hand. She said she married JAMES RAY but does not recall any other details of the trip from the Rainbow Inn in Saultillo, Mississippi, to the Court House at Jasper, Alabama. For this reason she believes she was drugged or something. She could not recall any conversation with RAY.

VIRGINIA UMFRESS RAY stated that on the trip back to Mississippi she recalled sleeping most of the way and no conversation. She described the vehicle that they were riding in as a 1967 Malibu, white in color with red upholstery. She said the two front fenders had severe dents in them and RAY mentioned that he had hit a bridge. Upon returning to Mississippi they drove to Tupelo to the trailer which UMFRESS had been living in just South of Tupelo on Highway 45 South.

She advised that they arrived in Tupelo around 5:00 P. M., on September 6, 1967, and they stayed at her trailer for the night. The next morning around 10:00 A. M., on September 7, 1967, after much discussion they drove to Jackson, Mississippi, to pick up VIRGINIA UMFRESS RAY's two year old son.

At this point, VIRGINIA UMFRESS RAY advised that her maiden name is VIRGINIA JACO and that in January, 1964, she married JOHNNY WAYNE UMFRESS who is employed as a carpenter with a company in Itawamba County, Mississippi. She divorced this man in 1966 and he still lives in Fulton, Mississippi.

JAMES RAY at first refused to drive to Jackson, Mississippi, however, she convinced him to come along with her. They left Tupelo, Mississippi, around 10:00 A. M., on September 7, 1967, and drove straight down to Jackson, Mississippi, arriving in the middle of the afternoon. They went directly to her grandparents, F. A. and VERA JACO, with whom her two year old son had been boarding at 225 Oak Street, Jackson.

VIRGINIA RAY said she went into her grandparents' house by herself while JAMES RAY, her new husband, made a gasoline purchase at the Sinclair Service Station across the street from her grandparents house. She said JAMES RAY used a Sinclair credit card in making all gasoline purchases.

At her grandparents' home she introduced JAMES RAY to her cousin GEORGE JONES, his wife JOYCE JONES, and her aunt, MARIE JACO, as well as her grandparents. She explained that her grandparents' home has separate apartments and that her cousin MARIE JACO, GEORGE and JOYCE JONES have separate apartments.

They remained overnight at the Oak Street address and between 6:00 and 7:00 A. M., when she got up, JAMES RAY said they were leaving for California. She said she refused to go and that RAY picked up GEORGE JONES's shotgun, pointed it at her stomach and said he was going to kill her. At this point her cousin JOYCE JONES came into the room and stepped between them and told RAY that he would have to kill her first. JAMES RAY hesitated for a moment, turned and ran out of the house. He got in his car and drove away taking the shotgun with him. VIRGINIA RAY said she has not seen JAMES RAY since and has heard nothing about him or from him since that time.

A short while after this incident she realized that sometime during the night or early morning RAY had taken the marriage license out of her overnight bag which she had picked up the morning before at the trailer in Tupelo. He also took a bronze horse trophy from the mantle.

Upon seeing the photograph of JAMES EARL RAY in the Jackson newspapers on April 19, 1968, she immediately thought it strongly resembled JAMES RAY, her missing husband.

VIRGINIA RAY furnished the following information concerning the contents of the 1967 Malibu in the possession of JAMES RAY:

A large blue Samsonite type suitcase which appeared to be the largest size. She described it as a hard finish airplane type luggage.

A black cloth type bag with a zipper across the top and handles. The lining of the cloth bag appeared to be plaid. Inside the bag was a current Alabama license plate and a current Mississippi license plate. She then recalled that the Malibu had Tennessee tags on it all during the period she was with RAY. She said she recalled asking RAY why he had the extra license plates and he said he needed them in his business. He said his business was that of a musician and that he played a guitar.

JN 157-9586

He had numerous cosmetic type kits which only women would use. She was not able to further describe the cosmetics other than it struck her as odd that he would have these items.

In the trunk of the car he had the small bronze horse trophy and a pair of expensive looking lizard skin riding boots.

RAY claimed to have been associated with horse shows and won the trophy at a horse show.

VIRGINIA RAY furnished the following physical description of her husband:

Name	JAMES (no middle name) RAY
Age	41 years (according to RAY in September, 1967)
Sex	Male
Race	White
Height	5 feet 11 inches
Hair	Light brown, cut very short, less than $\frac{1}{2}$ inches long.
Eyes	Bluish gray
Complexion	Light with ruddy or rough face.
Scars	Had severe scars across the back of each hand. Scars went across from one side to the other between the knuckles and the wrist.
	Had a small prominent scar on forehead to one side or the other in the center.
Tattoos	Had a large tattoo of a battleship across his upper back. The colors on this tattoo were very bright and not faded.
	Had a small tattoo on the calf of one leg reading "Hell Hole".

Could not recall which leg.
This tattoo located just below the knee off to the side.

Other characteristics

Upper front teeth missing
Had a full or partial upper plate.
Drank continuously. Any kind but usually Four Roses, also had moonshine whiskey, white in color, smoking nothing but Pall Mall cigarettes.
Just prior to shaving his beard appeared to be medium to light in color.

Upon inquiry, Mrs. RAY said she noticed nothing peculiar about her husband's ears. She said his eyebrows were average and brown in color.

The most peculiar thing about him other than the tattoos, was the fact that he addressed everyone as "hoss".
Numerous times while speaking he would use the word "hoss"
to the person he happened to be speaking to.

The only thing she could recall about his facial expression was the color of his eyes, bluish gray, and the fact that his eyes frightened her more than anything else.
She could not recall anything peculiar about his smile.
She then added that she did not recall ever seeing him smile.

Mrs. RAY said that her grandparents, F. A. and VERA JACO, her cousin JOYCE and her husband GEORGE and her aunt MARIE JACO all saw JAMES RAY. She said they too feel there is a resemblance between the photograph of JAMES EARL RAY which appeared in the Jackson newspapers on April 19, 1968, and her husband. She said that the previous photograph which appeared in the Jackson newspapers prior to April 19, 1968, did not resemble her husband. It was the photograph which appeared on April 19, 1968, which prompted her to call the Federal Bureau of Investigation. She said she has no information concerning the whereabouts of JAMES RAY since she last saw him on September 8, 1967.

JN 157-9586

Mrs. RAY then added that on the morning of September 8, 1967, after JAMES RAY hurriedly left her grandparents' home her cousin JOYCE JONES and her husband GEORGE JONES drove her back to Tupelo, Mississippi, to her rented trailer home.

Upon arriving there shortly before 5:00 P. M., she noticed that the door of the trailer was ajar approximately three or four inches. She recalled that she had given the key to the trailer to her husband.

When she entered the trailer she noticed some items were missing. The first thing she noticed was that her portable record player and 50 or 60 albums, mostly country music were missing. She thought the record player was a True Tone portable model.

A portable radio, make unknown, described as one that played with batteries or plug-in type, was missing.

A Brownie Holiday Flash Camera was missing.

A Dominion Portable hair dryer was missing.

Several sweaters, three pairs of her shoes and six dresses just back from the cleaners were missing.

She said that a picture of her mother which she described as being in an elaborate frame was also missing and in addition, a picture album of the family was missing.

JN 157-9586

Her cousin GEORGE, age 18 years, started her automobile, a 1955 Buick, blue and white in color in that she could not get it started herself. Her cousin GEORGE, discovered that some foreign substance had been placed in the gas tank causing the fuel line to be clogged.

After GEORGE JONES got her car started she drove it back to Jackson following GEORGE and JOYCE in their car.

She said they arrived in Jackson around 9:00 or 10:00 P. M., that night, September 8, 1967. She remained at her grandparents' house and lived there for a while.

The following description was obtained through observation and interview:

GEORGE JONES, 225 Oak Street, Jackson, Mississippi, advised that Mrs. VIRGINIA RAY is his wife's cousin and that Mrs. RAY told him that the photograph which appeared in the Jackson newspapers on April 19, 1968, appeared to look like her husband, JAMES (no middle name) RAY.

JONES said he was at the Oak Street address in September, 1967, when VIRGINIA RAY showed up with a man whom she introduced as her husband. JONES said VIRGINIA and her husband spent one day and one night at the Oak Street address and left early the following morning. RAY took GEORGE JONES' shotgun, pointed it at VIRGINIA, and said he was going to kill her.
