RE: EXAMINATION OF TIRES OF 1966 MUSTANG ABANDONED
BY GALT IN ATLANTA, APRIL 5, 1968

The following investigation was conducted by SA CHARLES PAUL ROSE and SA ROBERT MICHAEL KANE on April 17, 1968 at Atlanta, Georgia:

The following individuals, who are connected with the sale and manufacture of tire retread equipment used by recapping companies in recapping old tires, were displayed recapped tires from the 1966 Mustang abandoned by GALT in Atlanta. They all noted that the tread design was not a tread made by recappers in the Southeastern states.

They are: Mr. BUD REESE, Operations Manager,
Dugco Supply Division of Duggan Manufacturing Company,
410 Fourteenth Street, Atlanta; GERALD SMITH, ELMO BROWN
Gordy Tire Company, Fourteenth Street, Atlanta; BOB SEWELL, BALY Tire Company, 4900 Peachtree Industrial Boulevard,
Chamblee; LOU SWAN, Salesman, Wilson Tire and Supply Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

Mr. THAD PERDUE, LeMaster Retread Equipment
Company, Atlanta, Georgia, advised that the left front tire is design WT/771-X, wide track and retread manufactured by the Super Mold Corporation, Lodi, California. He noted the number 601 appears on the recap portion of the tire and stated the manufacturer should be able to identify the current location of recap machinery with this number.

He suggested that the tread on the two rear tires was possibly made by mold manufactured by the Los Angeles
Matrix Company, Los Angeles, California, or the Ace Mold Company, El Monte, California. Appearing on the recap portion of the two rear tires in small letters is RGT. PERDUE observed the weather worn condition of casings in the form of small cracking and stated his experience in California leads him to believe tires possibly had been in California and cracking due to Ozone in atmosphere, as this is a common condition in that area. PERDUE is acquainted with tire recap business in Southeastern states and stated both treads are foreign to this area of the United States, which is further substantiated by other investigation in the Atlanta area. Wear on each tire is difficult to estimate inasmuch as original tread unknown, but estimated to exceed five thousand miles on each tire.

Re ~~my~~let 4/17/68.

The following is made as a suggestion for consideration should further investigation strengthen the possibility that GALT is an illegal in this country and might have possible connections with Cuba and SNCC.

It is suggested that should this develop consideration be given to requesting the Bureau to review newsreels and newspaper photographs of crowds gathered in Cuba, particularly persons in positions of leadership, with the remote possibility, and it is recognized that it is remote, that GALT might be identified by blowing up the photograph. It is also noted that a New York report of SA THOMAS L. BECKWITH dated 3/20/68 in case entitled "BLACK NATIONALIST MOVEMENT, EASTERN UNITED STATES" notes in its synopsis that SNCC leaders held a news conference in Cuba in August, 1967, in which they stated, "We are moving toward urban guerrilla warfare within the United States since there is no other way to obtain our homes, our land and our rights."

This, coupled with statements made by BENITA IVEY in referenced memorandum and the information which was not reported in referenced memorandum to the effect that IVEY in her conversations with Atlanta informant went to some length to point out that there was a connection between the Vietnamese war and the black nationalist movement.

It is realized that this is highly speculative, but it is felt this thought should be recorded for possible future use.

The following information is being submitted for possible use in the evaluation of the theory that the unknown subject of this case may be part of an international conspiracy participated in by militant black nationalists, and particularly SNCC. This is offered as a summary of information which has accumulated in connection with the investigation of SNCC and black nationalist activities, and by no means is intended to include all of the minor bits of information which might tend to support such a theory.

Informants reported as early as October, 1967, statements by HULON MITCHELL, former Minister of Muhammad's Mosque #15 in Atlanta, NOI, to the effect that a coalition of militant black nationalists throughout the world was needed and that resorting to violence and guerrilla warfare tactics would be necessary to accomplish the aims of the black man in America.

Informant furnished information in January, 1968, indicating that from a review of SNCC financial records SNCC was almost broke. Informant, who is very close to numerous SNCC members in Atlanta and New York, advised in February, 1968, that in conversations with BENITA IVEY, a staff member of SNCC who recently transferred to New York to replace JAMES FORMAN as head of the international office of SNCC, IVEY stated as follows:

The black nationalists' objective is worldwide revolution.

Blacks outnumber whites in the world.

Blacks are organizing now and are being organized by SNCC and other black nationalist organizations throughout the U.S.

Russia would ultimately support the U.S. against black people of the world and communist countries such as Cuba and China, because the battle will be between the nations who have exploited and the nations who have been exploited.

In response to query about blacks being outnumbered in the U.S. and without power, IVEY responded that when properly organized and with correct timing and careful planning, blacks could bring white America to its knees, and gave Watts and Detroit as evidence of what can be done.

IVEY argued that CASTRO had been successful in Cuba against the government supported by the U.S., and discussed the tactics of ERNESTO CHE GUEVARA on guerrilla warfare.

In response to the argument that white America's power would be overwhelming, IVEY responded that most black militants feel that white America would not stand by and see its existing wealth such as homes, skyscrapers, and city transportation systems destroyed by revolution on a guerrilla basis, but would give in to a demand by black nationalists and that when this was accomplished the revolution would have been considered a success.

IVEY was insistent that nothing could be accomplished by peaceful means since whites would never give in without being forced. IVEY stated that once the revolution was accomplished, black people in America would be able to go on in society and get the same benefits from society that whites get from the same effort, and that this was basically the purpose for the revolution.

IVEY used the Vietnam war to illustrate how the U.S. had overextended itself militarily throughout the world and thus made the type of revolution that the militant black nationalists advocate very possible. She said that the U.S. could not fight in Vietnam and fight all the black people of the world at the same time, and for this reason time was essential.

IVEY stated that if weapons were obtained and stored in strategic spots throughout the U.S. and at the proper moment were distributed to the masses of the black people, it would be possible to bring the white population to its knees.

IVEY pointed out that STOKELY CARMICHAEL and other SNCC functionaries have been to Cuba and that they have talked with people in Cuba, and they are on the side of the black people in this struggle.

A second informant recently advised the Atlanta Office that JENNIFER LAWSON, a staff member of SNCC in Atlanta who is known to have visited Cuba in January of 1968, remarked in a social gathering in March, 1968, in which she had been discussing her vacation and talked about being in a sunny climate and staying at a plush hotel, "I had been told that CASTRO would talk for four hours, and while sitting and listening to CASTRO, the thought crossed my mind 'Even if we do get the financial support from these people for our revolution, won't we have the same problems over again trying to deal with white people?'"

The same informant has advised within the past week that LAWSON has discussed with informant very recently the details of her visit to Cuba and talked about Cuban life.

The first informant mentioned above recently furnished a copy of a speech given by STOKELY CARMICHAEL in which CARMICHAEL outlined the organization of a revolution which he said would take a period of twenty years and would require the sacrifice of his generation to the cause. This informant, who is in day-to-day contact with numerous SNCC people, has stated several times that the SNCC people constantly talk of their objective as "creating chaos."

Information from the above mentioned informants and three other informants furnished considerable data on SNCC and SNCC personalities. These informants noted extremely tight secrecy surrounding all SNCC meetings and activities. These informants have noted that while the SNCC people in Atlanta are, for the most part, young college graduates and meet socially with other young college graduates in the Negro community, their meetings are held in secrecy from their regular associates.

A third informant furnished an account of the circumstances in the Negro community immediately following the death of MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., through the night of the funeral for KING. This informant was in the SNCC office within two hours following the death of KING in the company of about 18 others, most of whom were SNCC associates. These persons learned that students were meeting at nearby Atlanta University for a march on the downtown section of Atlanta. A plan was formulated to stop the march and it consisted of having the 18 go to the campus and circulate in the crowd urging the following three points:

- (1) regular student leaders should be given a chance to retain control of the crowd.
- (2) the police department was out in force and it would be slaughter if they went downtown.
- (3) the students should go to Archer Hall and formulate a meeting where a plan could be worked out.

One individual who was at the SNCC headquarters, but concerning whom very little is known as yet, made a statement to the effect that "we have to wait for our leadership."

This informant advised that 800 to 1000 students gathered at Archer Hall and that from about 9:30 p.m. on 4/4/68 to 3:30 a.m. on 4/5/68, it was "touch and go" as to whether or not the crowd would go downtown to riot. He noted peculiarly that the SNCC people throughout this gathering worked to quiet the crowd and prevent rioting. He said, however, there was contradiction within the positions taken by SNCC persons themselves. This informant stayed with the militants and activists almost constantly until the night following the funeral of KING and witnessed a circumstance at Hunter Street in front of Paschal's Restaurant where a crowd estimated at 200 to 400 listened to JAMES FORMAN, a known SNCC functionary speaking in a tone obviously calculated to incite riots. This informant advised that FORMAN was unsuccessful and so were other speakers who followed him.

Sources stated that CARMICHAEL and almost all the SNCC functionaries in Atlanta were in a dining room at Paschal's Restaurant during FORMAN's speech outside which lasted 2½ hours, but CARMICHAEL never made an appearance to the crowd.

The first informant mentioned above was contacted during the demonstration at Paschal's and advised that he would state positively that there would be no riot based on his conversations with SNCC members and others in the Negro community. He said that the burial of KING had created a mood among the Negroes which made incitement to riot virtually impossible at this time. He pointed out that many of the moderate Negro leaders had become active in the days following KING's death in efforts to quiet the more militant young leaders and the reaction was that FORMAN would be unsuccessful.

This informant furnished information on 4/16/68 to the effect that contact with three known SNCC functionaries in Atlanta on that date revealed that SNCC is undergoing a re-evaluation of its position, due to KING's death, and that they now seem to feel that violence or the violent approach may have less chance now than before KING's death. This informant, who is in a position to know the financial status of both SNCC and SCLC, advised that the constant contributions to SCLC have been phenomenal since the death of KING and he would estimate SCLC has between $2 Million and $5 Million received after KING's death.

In addition to the above, it is noted that just before KING's death, Dr. ROY BELL, a Negro dentist in the Atlanta area furnished a complaint to the Atlanta Office in which circumstances were related alleging he had been drugged by JOHN SHABAZZ, current minister of Muhammad's Mosque #15, NOI, while at Paschal's restaurant, and later met with SHABAZZ and went through a period of excruciating fear during which he claims he thinks he committed himself to support of the Muslim cause which he stated would be completely against all he stands for. BELL supported his story by stating he had visited a psychiatrist who turned out to be an apparently reputable white psychiatrist in Atlanta who stated frankly that BELL had "taken a trip on LSD", and that he had known BELL for two or three years and that BELL was normal in the sense that he was sufficiently competent to conduct a successful dental practice. BELL, as a result of his encounter with SHABAZZ, had evolved the theory that there was a movement underway among the militant black nationalists with whom he has no sympathy to eliminate the moderate civil rights leaders, of whom BELL is one, by blackmail, intimidation, or drugs. BELL pointed out that many of the persons he worked with a few years ago in the civil rights movement in Atlanta have according to BELL mysteriously withdrawn from the field of civil rights. He said that these persons are the type that would be adamant in their opposition to CARMICHAEL and his group unless they were under some type of intimidation. BELL mentioned Dr. KING and stated he knew KING and Rev. ABERNATHY, along with the other leaders in Atlanta, and he knew there was sufficient information in their backgrounds to blackmail them into inactivity. He said he had been with KING and ABERNATHY when they were drunk together and when KING wanted to keep company with women other than his wife. He said this was common practice among all the Negro leaders but it could be used as blackmail since they do not generally allow their wives and business acquaintances to know their activities.

On 4/16/68, the first informant mentioned above and an informant not previously mentioned who has considerable contact with the Muslims, mentioned that a rumor has been circulated in Atlanta to the effect that CARMICHAEL had something to do with the murder of KING. This comment was seized as an opportunity to discuss the plausibility of such a theory with this informant. Both these informants pointed out that they personally were repulsed by the theory because even in the case of the first informant mentioned above who has considerable knowledge of SNCC's theory of revolution could not accommodate his mind to the idea that even SNCC people would resort to such a crime against the black people of America; however, both of these informants after giving this matter careful consideration stated they could see the logic and plausibility of such a scheme. The first informant pointed out that if this should be the case the white population of America would be in an impossible situation since from his knowledge of the Negroes no amount of evidence would ever convince the masses of the Negro population that Negroes had anything to do with killing KING.

Eric Galt's Trail Ends in Atlanta

By JEFF NESMITH

The FBI's brief account of the travels of Eric Starvo Galt ends on April 5 in an Atlanta housing project.

It was on that date, the morning after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., that residents of Capitol Homes Apartments on Memorial Drive SE observed a well-dressed man lock the doors of a 1966 white Mustang and stroll away, never to return.

Information released by the FBI Wednesday in Washington, D.C., contains no reference to any date after April 11, the day agents picked up the car in Atlanta. The FBI has obtained a warrant charging Galt with conspiracy in the shooting of Dr. King.

The FBI release identifies the white Mustang abandoned in Atlanta as belonging to Galt.

According to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, the wanted man has taken trips to Los Angeles, Calif., New Orleans, La., Birmingham, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., and even Mexico in the white car.

But the last trip he took in it brought him to Atlanta.

Residents of Capitol Homes said they noticed the abandoned car because of publicity given to a report that a white Mustang had been spotted leaving the scene of Dr. King's death in Memphis.

Five days after the car was abandoned, a housewife in Capitol Homes notified the FBI and was told to call the Atlanta Police Department.

She did and the following afternoon, a Thursday, a swarm of FBI agents showed up at Capitol Homes, taking pictures of the car and talking to residents.

The car was impounded and newsmen were not allowed to see it.

However, residents of the area remembered, among other things, that the Mustang bore Mexican visa stickers on its windshield.

That night, FBI offices in Miami, Fla., issued an all points bulletin, instructing police officers to locate Galt and detain him for questioning in the death of Dr. King.

Two hours later, the bulletin was withdrawn. There was no explanation.

For the next few days nothing happened. Newsmen attempted to retrace the steps FBI agents apparently had taken in their investigation.

The manager and residents of a rooming house where Galt lived in Birmingham, Ala., were questioned, as were operators of nearby stores and laundries. Each time a reporter went somewhere, he was told the FBI already had been there.

Then, on Tuesday of this week, an Atlanta cab driver told FBI agents he had picked up a "rude" man who seemed to fit the description of Galt in the hippie section here and driven him a few blocks.

The cabbie said he had stopped his car on 14th Street at Peachtree when the man got in and instructed him to "make a right turn and I'll tell you where to stop."

On Peachtree, nearer to the downtown area, the passenger said, "This is it," got out of the cab and tossed two quarters over the seat to the driver.

A check of travel terminals in Atlanta indicates that federal agents have not checked with ticket agents to determine if Galt, after abandoning his car here, flew or rode out of town.

One after another, officials at Atlanta Airport and bus and train stations deny that they have been approached by FBI men.

And so the question remains: Is Galt still in Atlanta? And does the FBI know he's here? Or is he somewhere else with the federal men keeping an eye on him?

"No comment."

The warrant issued in Birmingham for Galt charges him with conspiracy to violate Dr. King's civil rights, a federal offense. Murder is not a federal offense and the FBI could not arrest him on a murder charge. That is a local or state matter.

The information released in Washington Wednesday charges that Galt, a man who apparently has done a great deal of traveling in the past few months, conspired to deny Dr. King a constitutional right, "namely the right to travel from state to state."

Clue Here Hints At Plot on King

Taxi Passenger in Hippie Area Linked to FBI Sketch of Killer

Speculation of conspiracy in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. grew Wednesday after FBI agents picked up another clue, this time from an incident in Northeast Atlanta's hippie section.

An Atlanta taxi driver told federal agents Tuesday an FBI sketch matches a rude passenger who rode with him two blocks in the hippie section a night after Dr. King was felled by a sniper's bullet.

The driver, who asked that his name be withheld, said he was cruising the area around 14th Street and had to stop at a traffic light at Peachtree Street.

He said he halted directly in front of the Catacombs, an old house converted into a hippie spot. A crowd of hippies was on the sidewalk.

"THIS MAN standing on the sidewalk opened the door and got in. He didn't even ask me if I had a fare or not. He just said, 'Make a right turn and I'll tell you where to stop.'"

"He didn't say anything until we went down Peachtree toward downtown and then he said, 'This is it,' the cab driver said.

The patron got out at 12th Street. He got out of the back seat and threw two quarters over the seat. One of them landed on the floor," the driver said, adding he remembered the man because of his rudeness.

The Washington Post reported from Memphis there is speculation that the assassin was a professional killer who left an elaborate trail of phony clues to confuse law enforcement officers.

THE SPECULATION is that the killer dissolved his real identity and manufactured a new man known as Eric Starvo Galt, a 36-year-old unemployed merchant marine.

Finally, when the assassination was pulled off the killer left a glaring trail of fingerprints, clothing, binoculars, a rifle and an expended shell.

There was speculation that the pump rifle found near the murder scene was not the rifle used in the slaying.

The killer left fingerprints either because he is an alien or because he thinks he has not been fingerprinted, police told the Washington newspaper.

The Atlanta taxi driver said FBI agents have been checking taxi trip sheets since a white Mustang, matching the description of a car seen leaving the assassination scene in Memphis, was found abandoned in Atlanta last week.

The FBI continued its "no comment" policy. Atlanta police said they had received no information on the report.

Birmingham Sheriff Mel Bailey said Tuesday evidence indicates the slaying of Dr. King was a conspiracy that probably had Birmingham as the original site for the killing.

Bailey, of Jefferson (Birmingham) County, theorized the killer laid in wait for King in Birmingham, but had little opportunity during the past five months.

Bailey said there is evidence that the prime suspect in the murder, a man identified as Eric Starvo Galt, was in Birmingham at the same time as King last October and November.

"He could have laid in wait with that sniper rifle on many occasions, waiting for a shot at King," the sheriff said.

In Birmingham Monday, the landlord of a boarding house said he was sure the description of Eric Starvo Galt fit that of a man sought by the FBI. "That's him, I'm sure," said Peter Cherpes, 72, referring to the drawings.

The driver described the man as about 5 feet 11 and 28 to 30 years old with dark brown hair.

"He was very neatly dressed," he said, adding that the man wore a sport coat with a light-colored shirt without a tie. "He looked as if he had had acne. It looked like little scars on his face from pimples."

The driver said he had seen several sketches. "News reporters haven't shown me any sketches of anyone I've seen," he said. "The FBI has."

However, he then looked at a sketch drawn by an artist in Mexican police headquarters after authorities in that country were drawn into the probe and said it contained some features of the FBI picture "mainly around the eyes."

"The picture they have," he said of the FBI, "that's the man who was in my cab."

FBI agents have questioned hundreds of persons in search of the man named Galt who had identified himself in Birmingham as an unemployed merchant seaman and as a shipyard worker.

M.C. RHODES, Capitol Furniture Co., 165 Whitehall Street, SE, Atlanta, Ga., advised that he noted a coincidence which may be significant in connection with subject GALT. He said he is very familiar with Atlanta due to furniture deliveries and noted that the street Eric Street and Galt Street both streets which intersect McDonough Boulevard are right next to each other in the vicinity of General Motors building. He said that he was interested enough in this matter to take a drive out in this area and noted there is a Union Hall and Brazier Burger stand between the two streets facing on McDonough Boulevard.

Mr. RHODES suggested that since these streets are so close together, the name ERIC GALT may have been picked by someone living in this area who would be familiar with the names of these two streets. He noted that the streets are only two and five blocks in length and that they would not generally known to inhabitants of the Atlanta area other than those living in the Atlanta.
