

the inmate said he got along well while he was at the State Penitentiary in Parchman, Mississippi, where he was sent when he was nineteen years old. He says that he and three associates had broken into a store. He says all of his work was on the farm and despite having a few fights, he considered his adjustment record satisfactory. This inmate also served at the State Penitentiary at Jefferson City, Missouri, for forgery, but while assigned to an Honor Farm at that Institution he escaped and received an additional sentence period. Inside the walls he worked in the Soap Factory, Cannery, and Block Factory. Between incarcerations the inmate has worked as a construction laborer and has travelled around the country a great deal. He was in Texas in 1965, then to Missouri and back to Illinois. He was again in Elgin, Illinois, for only three months when he was arrested on the instant charges. In respect to his drinking activities, the inmate says he occasionally drinks to excess but does not feel that this has particularly interfered with his work. He does admit that there may be some relationship between his drinking and his arrest. He denies any use of narcotics and says his gambling has not been heavy. Leisure time activities include participating in sports, fishing and hunting.

PERSONALITY:

This is a slender, wiry, 31-year-old recidivist, who has had major sentences previously for forgery, burglary, and escape. He is a quite unstable individual with very loose family ties and a background of heavy drinking. He impresses us as being a poorly motivated, irresponsible individual who is pleasant enough in the interview situation but usually does pretty much as he pleases and drifts along in life without much ambition or long-range goals. He has a number of rather grotesque tattoos on his person which generally detracts from his appearance. He is of dull normal intelligence, according to the psychological screening report. Based upon his background in other institutions, it is quite possible he might have a difficult time serving this sentence.

CLASSIFICATION:

Group III. Without need for mental treatment and not mentally retarded. Inadequate and unstable personality with periodic alcoholism. Doubtfully improvable offender. Doubtful prognosis. Dull normal intelligence. "

RECOMMENDATION:

Stateville Unit.

This inmate says that he would very much like to be assigned to the Cannery and claims that he has had some experience. He realizes that he would not be approved for an outside detail and MAXIMUM SECURITY would appear in order at this time.

TIPS FOR MAKING BETTER RECORDINGS

Record Level—Adjust record level according to instructions in your recorder manual; or make a test recording at several volume levels. Use the level that gives the most natural sound on playback. Too much volume gives distortion. Too little volume increases the background noise.

Storage—Extremes of humidity and temperature should be avoided. Best storage conditions are 40% to 60% Relative Humidity at room temperature. When tape has been stored for six months or more, it is good practice to rewind before using.

Cleaning—The recorder heads, guides, capstan and pressure roller should be cleaned periodically with a cotton swab slightly moistened with alcohol or Freon TF* to assure best performance.

Rewinding—The oxide surface of the tape must face the magnetic heads in the recorder. The tape is supplied with the oxide surface wound facing in.

Timing and Editing—For easier threading of the reel, for editing, precise cueing, and spacing of selections within a reel, use "Scotch" Brand Leader and Timing Tapes No. 24; you can write on No. 24 with pencil or pen to identify selections.

*DuPont Trademark

WHAT SILICONE LUBRICATION MEANS TO YOU:

The magnetic head is the all-important part of your recorder that creates and reproduces magnetic impressions of sound. Upon its performance depends the quality of sound that your recorder will give you. At the same time, this magnetic head is the part most subject to wear. To protect against wear,

"Scotch" Brand recording tapes have an exclusive dry silicone lubricant impregnated throughout the oxide coating. Not a temporary polish or surface film, this lubricant lasts the entire life of the tape, providing constant protection! Result: heads last longer, record and reproduce with fidelity.

IMPORTANT! Remove adhesive end-of-roll tab before using tape.

MAKING TIGHT, NOISE-FREE SPLICES

Do not use magnetized scissors or razor blades when splicing. Magnetized instruments will cause a "click" or "pop" at the splice.

1. Overlap the two ends of the tape and cut them diagonally. (A diagonal cut minimizes disturbance at the splice.)

2. Align both ends with the uncoated side up. Avoid excessive handling of tape. Contamination of tape surface at joint by body oils or foreign matter prevents a firm splice.

3. Cover aligned ends with "Scotch"

Brand Splicing Tape No. 41. Apply it diagonally, pressing firmly to make a tight splice. "Scotch" Splicing Tape is recommended because it doesn't ooze, always holds tight, passes easily over recorder heads.

4. Trim off excess Splicing Tape, cutting into the recording tape slightly (as illustrated by dotted lines).

FOR BETTER RECORDING USE THESE ACCESSORIES

No. 41—Splicing Tape

A pressure-sensitive tape expressly made for neat, noiseless splices. Makes strong and lasting splices that actually get stronger with age. Won't get gummy or sticky, won't ooze or bleed under tension. Available in 7/32" x 66' long rolls or 1/2" width on convenient metal dispenser.

No. 24—Colored Leader and Timing Tapes

Used to identify ends of tape and selections within a roll. Protects tape ends, makes threading easier, with measured plaid markings for accurate cueing and timing. Available in yellow and white, in handy dispenser packages. 1/4 in. x 100 ft.

No. 12—End-Of-Reel Tape Clips

Clip securely to tape, prevent spilling or tangling in handling, storage and mailing. Fit inside reel, won't distort reels in storage. Work equally well on partial or full reels.

No. 51—Conductive Sensing Tape

For recorders with electronic sensing controls. This thin, flexible, strong conductive foil tape has a pressure-sensitive adhesive that sticks tight, stays clean. 7/32 in. x 150 in. in a dispenser card with mounting guide.

IMPORTANT! Remove adhesive end-of-roll tab before using tape.

EMPLOYEE'S WITHHOLDING EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

EMPLOYEE:

File this form with your employer. Otherwise, he must withhold U.S. income tax from your wages without exemption.

EMPLOYER:

Keep this certificate with your records. If the employee is believed to have claimed too many exemptions, the District Director should be so advised.

HOW TO CLAIM YOUR WITHHOLDING EXEMPTIONS

1. If SINGLE, and you claim your exemption, write "1", if you do not, write "0"
2. If MARRIED, one exemption each is allowable for husband and wife if not claimed on another certificate.
(a) If you claim both of these exemptions, write "2"
(b) If you claim one of these exemptions, write "1"
(c) If you claim neither of these exemptions, write "0"
3. Exemptions for age and blindness (applicable only to you and your wife but not to dependents):
(a) If you or your wife will be 65 years of age or older at the end of the year, and you claim this exemption, write "1"; if both will be 65 or older, and you claim both of these exemptions, write "2"
(b) If you or your wife are blind, and you claim this exemption, write "1"; if both are blind, and you claim both of these exemptions, write "2"
4. If you claim exemptions for one or more dependents, write the number of such exemptions. (Do not claim exemption for a dependent unless you are qualified under instruction 3 on other side.)
5. Add the number of exemptions which you have claimed above and write the total
6. Additional withholding per pay period under agreement with employer. See Instruction 1 $

I CERTIFY that the number of withholding exemptions claimed on this certificate does not exceed the number to which I am entitled.

(Date)

(Signed)

1. NUMBER OF EXEMPTIONS.—Do not claim more than the correct number of exemptions. However, if you expect to owe more income tax for the year than will be withheld if you claim every exemption to which you are entitled, you may increase the withholding by claiming a smaller number of exemptions or you may enter into an agreement with your employer to have additional amounts withheld. This is especially important if you have more than one employer, or if both husband and wife are employed.

2. CHANGES IN EXEMPTIONS.—You may file a new certificate at any time if the number of your exemptions INCREASES.

You must file a new certificate within 10 days if the number of exemptions previously claimed by you DECREASES for any of the following reasons:

(a) Your wife (or husband) for whom you have been claiming exemption is divorced or legally separated, or claims her (or his) own exemption on a separate certificate.

(b) The support of a dependent for whom you claimed exemption is taken over by someone else, so that you no longer expect to furnish more than half the support for the year.

(c) You find that a dependent for whom you claimed exemption will receive $600 or more of income of his own during the year (except your child who is a student or who is under 19 years of age).

OTHER DECREASES in exemption, such as the death of a wife or a dependent, do not affect your withholding until the next year, but require the filing of a new certificate by December 1 of the year in which they occur.

For further information consult your local District Director of Internal Revenue or your employer.

3. DEPENDENTS.—To qualify as your dependent (line 4 on other side), a person (a) must receive more than one-half of his or her support from you for the year, and (b) must have less than $600 gross income during the year (except your child who is a student or who is under 19 years of age), and (c) must not be claimed as an exemption by such person's husband or wife, and (d) must be a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone (this does not apply to an alien child legally adopted by and living with a United States citizen abroad), and (e) must (1) have your home as his principal residence and be a member of your household for the entire year, or

(2) be related to you as follows:

Your son or daughter (including legally adopted children), grandchild, stepson, stepdaughter, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law;

Your father, mother, grandparent, stepfather, stepmother, father-in-law, or mother-in-law;

Your brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, half brother, half sister, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law;

Your uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece (but only if related by blood).

4. PENALTIES.—Penalties are imposed for willfully supplying false information or willful failure to supply information which would reduce the withholding exemption.

EMPLOYEE'S WITHHOLDING EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE

Social Security
Account Number

Print full name Charles J. Smith City Chicago State Ill.

Print home address

EMPLOYEE:

File this form with your employer. Otherwise, he must withhold U.S. income tax from your wages without exemption.

EMPLOYER:

Keep this certificate with your records. If the employee is believed to have claimed too many exemptions, the District Director should be so advised.

HOW TO CLAIM YOUR WITHHOLDING EXEMPTIONS

1. IF SINGLE, and you claim your exemption, write "1", if you do not, write "0".
2. IF MARRIED, one exemption each is allowable for husband and wife if not claimed on another certificate.
 - (a) If you claim both of these exemptions, write "2"
 - (b) If you claim one of these exemptions, write "1"
 - (c) If you claim neither of these exemptions, write "0"
3. Exemptions for age and blindness (applicable only to you and your wife but not to dependents):
 - (a) If you or your wife will be 65 years of age or older at the end of the year, and you claim this exemption, write "1"; if both will be 65 or older, and you claim both of these exemptions, write "2".
 - (b) If you or your wife are blind, and you claim this exemption, write "1"; if both are blind, and you claim both of these exemptions, write "2".
4. If you claim exemptions for one or more dependents, write the number of such exemptions. (Do not claim exemption for a dependent unless you are qualified under instruction 3 on other side.)
5. Add the number of exemptions which you have claimed above and write the total
6. Additional withholding per pay period under agreement with employer. See Instruction 1

Additional withholding per pay period under agreement with employer. See Instruction 1

I CERTIFY that the number of withholding exemptions claimed on this certificate does not exceed the number to which I am entitled.

1. NUMBER OF EXEMPTIONS.—Do not claim more than the correct number of exemptions. However, if you expect to owe more income tax for the year than will be withheld if you claim every exemption to which you are entitled, you may increase the withholding by claiming a smaller number of exemptions or you may enter into an agreement with your employer to have additional amounts withheld. This is especially important if you have more than one employer, or if both husband and wife are employed.

2. CHANGES IN EXEMPTIONS.—You may file a new certificate at any time if the number of your exemptions INCREASES. You must file a new certificate within 10 days if the number of exemptions previously claimed by you DECREASES for any of the following reasons:

- (a) Your wife (or husband) for whom you have been claiming exemption is divorced or legally separated, or claims her (or his) own exemption on a separate certificate.
- (b) The support of a dependent for whom you claimed exemption is taken over by someone else, so that you no longer expect to furnish more than half the support for the year.
- (c) You find that a dependent for whom you claimed exemption will receive $600 or more of income of his own during the year (except your child who is a student or who is under 19 years of age).

OTHER DECREASES in exemption, such as the death of a wife or a dependent, do not affect your withholding until the next year, but require the filing of a new certificate by December 1 of the year in which they occur.

For further information consult your local District Director of Internal Revenue or your employer.

3. DEPENDENTS.—To qualify as your dependent (line 4 on other side), a person (a) must receive more than one-half of his or her support from you for the year, and (b) must have less than $600 gross income during the year (except your child who is a student or who is under 19 years of age), and (c) must not be claimed as an exemption by such person's husband or wife, and (d) must be a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone (this does not apply to an alien child legally adopted by and living with a United States citizen abroad), and (e) must (1) have your home as his principal residence and be a member of your household for the entire year, or

(2) be related to you as follows:

- Your son or daughter (including legally adopted children), grandchild, stepson, stepdaughter, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law;
- Your father, mother, grandparent, stepfather, stepmother, father-in-law, or mother-in-law;
- Your brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, half brother, half sister, brother-in-law, or sister-in-law;
- Your uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece (but only if related by blood).

4. PENALTIES.—Penalties are imposed for willfully supplying false information or willful failure to supply information which would reduce the withholding exemption.
