RAY 5/12 WA
 WASHINGTON (UPI) --ATTY. GEN. RAMSEY CLARK EXPRESSED THE BELIEF SUNDAY THAT ESCAPED CONVICT JAMES EARL RAY, ACCUSED OF SLAYING DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, REMAINS ALIVE AND IN THE UNITED STATES. HE SAID HE WAS "VERY OPTIMISTIC" THAT HE WOULD BE CAPTURED.

HE SAID HE FOUND NO EVIDENCE TO SUPPORT THEORIES THAT RAY HAD BEEN HIRED BY CONSPIRATORS TO KILL KING AND THEN HIMSELF KILLED. "WE HAVE NO EVIDENCE TO BELIEVE THAT HE IS NOT STILL ALIVE," HE SAID.

INTERVIEWED ON TELEVISION (ISSUES AND ANSWERS--ABC), CLARK ALSO SAID THE INVESTIGATION WAS STILL OPERATING ON THE ASSUMPTION THAT KING'S KILLER WAS NOT THE AGENT OF CONSPIRATORS.

"OUR EVIDENCE INDICATES A MAN ACTING ALONE," HE SAID. "THIS DOES NOT NEGATE OTHER THEORIES. IT WOULD BE IMPOSSIBLE TO RULE OUT A CONSPIRACY OF THE RIGHT OR THE LEFT OR THE MIDDLE OR ANY OTHER TYPE OF CONSPIRACY. BUT AT THIS TIME, OUR EVIDENCE IS THAT THIS MAN WAS ACTING ALONE."

CLARK, WHO PREDICTED THAT KING'S KILLER WOULD BE APPREHENDED WITHIN A FEW DAYS OF HIS ASSASSINATION IN MEMPHIS, TENN. ON APRIL 4, SAID HE WAS "DISAPPOINTED" THAT HIS PREDICTION WAS WRONG. BUT HE NOTED THAT THE SEARCH FOR RAY WAS "THE MOST MASSIVE MANHUNT ... THAT THE FBI HAS EVER UNDERTAKEN" AND SAID, "I REMAIN VERY OPTIMISTIC THAT WE WILL" APPREHEND HIM.

CLARK DEFENDED THE RECORD OF THE JOHNSON AND KENNEDY ADMINISTRATIONS IN COMBATING CRIME AGAINST A CHARGE LAST WEEK BY RICHARD M. NIXON THAT HE HAD BEEN "INDIFFERENT, LAZE AND INEFFECTUAL."

HE NOTED THAT NIXON CITED FIGURES TO SHOW THAT CRIME RATE HAD GROWN BY 88 PER CENT SINCE JOHN F. KENNEDY TOOK OFFICE IN 1961. HE COUNTERED BY SAYING THAT IN THE 1950S, INCLUDING THE EIGHT-YEAR PERIOD WHEN NIXON WAS VICE PRESIDENT, CRIME HAD INCREASED BY 98 PER CENT.

HE APPEALED FOR CONGRESSIONAL ACTION ON PRESIDENT JOHNSON'S "CRIME IN THE STREETS" BILL NOW BEFORE THE SENATE, BUT URGED CONGRESS NOT TO INCLUDE A SECTION INTENDED TO REPEAL SUPREME COURT DECISIONS TIGHTENING THE CIRCUMSTANCES UNDER WHICH CONFESSIONS CAN BE OBTAINED FOR USE IN TRIALS.

HE SAID ADOPTION OF THE PROPOSAL WOULD BE "A TRAGEDY FOR THE CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS OF OUR CITIZENS" AND HE ARGUED THAT TO "OVERRULE THE CONSTITUTION BY STATUTE" WOULD NOT CONFORM TO THE UNITED STATES' "COMMITMENT TO THE CONCEPT OF RULE UNDER LAW."

CLARK REFUSED TO PREDICT WHETHER PRESIDENT JOHNSON WOULD VETO THE BILL IF CONGRESS ADOPTED IT WITH THE SECTION DESIGNED TO CHANGE THE IMPACT OF THE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

(MANHUNT)

WASHINGTON--A MONTH AFTER A SNIPER KILLED MARTIN LUTHER KING, THE FBI WAS "STILL LOOKING HARD" TODAY FOR THE MAN IT SAYS DID IT--AN EX-CONVICT WHO SPENT NEARLY A YEAR ESTABLISHING A FALSE IDENTITY.

THERE WERE NO INDICATIONS OF ANY IMMINENT BREAK IN THE SEARCH FOR JAMES EARL RAY, ALIAS ERIC STARVO GALT, ALTHOUGH THE MANHUNT FOR HIM HAD FOCUSED AT TIMES AROUND THE WORLD.

OFFICIALS SAID THERE WERE NO INDICATIONS THAT RAY HAD LEFT THE COUNTRY DESPITE A RASH OF REPORTS FROM MEXICO, CANADA, AUSTRALIA, HONG KONG AND WEST GERMANY. THE OFFICIALS POINTED OUT INTERNATIONAL TRAVEL REQUIRES IDENTIFICATION PAPERS THAT CAN EASILY BE CHECKED.

THE FBI HAS A FULL DOSSIER ON RAY, INCLUDING A FULL SET OF FINGERPRINTS, A DETAILED PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION FROM HIS TERMS IN VARIOUS PRISONS AND AN AMAZING ASSORTMENT OF PERSONAL HABITS.

BUT GALT, THE MAN THE FBI SAYS RAY WORKED ON ESTABLISHING FOR A YEAR BEFORE THE APRIL 4 ASSASSINATION OF KING, LEFT BEHIND LITTLE STATISTICAL DATA, PROBABLY BY DESIGN.

THERE IS GROWING BELIEF IN SOME OFFICIAL CIRCLES IN WASHINGTON THAT RAY ACTED ALONE IN ASSASSINATING KING IN MEMPHIS, ALTHOUGH THE ORIGINAL FBI WARRANT FOR HIS ARREST WAS BASED ON A CIVIL RIGHTS CONSPIRACY CHARGE.

RAY ALREADY IS WANTED ON A FEDERAL FUGITIVE WARRANT FOR ESCAPING THE MISSOURI STATE PENITENTIARY APRIL 23, 1967. DESPITE HIS RECORD OF ATTEMPTS TO ESCAPE, RECORDS FROM THE VARIOUS PRISONS WHERE HE SERVED SHOW HE WAS A MODEL PRISONER.

BUT THE RECORDS SHOW THAT TWICE, AT LEVENWORTH PRISON IN 1957 AND DURING HIS TERM IN MISSOURI PRISON, RAY TURNED DOWN OFFERS OF TRANSFERS TO MINIMUM CUSTODY SECTIONS BECAUSE THE HONOR CAMP DORMITORIES WERE INTEGRATED.

Biggest Search in History?Ray Hunt Stumps FBIBy THOMAS TALBURT
Scripps-Howard Staff Writer

What is probably the biggest manhunt in history — the search for the slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. — runs into a blank wall on Peachtree-st in Atlanta. The trail ends there.

For four weeks, the will-o'-the-wisp suspect has eluded one of the massive manhunts since dropping from sight in Atlanta on April 5 — the day after Dr. King was shot on a Memphis motel balcony.

Authorities in at least half a dozen other countries also are on the lookout for the elusive man first identified under his alias, Eric Starvo Galt, and later identified by the FBI as James Earl Ray, a drifter and habitual criminal who escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary on April 23, 1967.

TRAIL ENDS

Altho the FBI has branded Ray its No. 1 quarry and blanketed the nation with "wanted" posters bearing his picture, Ray's trail ends with the recollections of two Atlanta cab drivers who identified him first from sketches, and later from a photograph, as the man they picked up as a passenger April 5.

One of the drivers said he picked up Ray in downtown Atlanta and drove him only two blocks to 12th and Peachtree Streets, when Ray suddenly asked to be let out. The driver said he remembered Ray because of the briefness of his trip.

The second driver, who like the first, is employed by the Atlanta Million Cab Co., said that on the evening of April 5 he drove Ray to the corner of 13th street and Crescent avenue, a block west of Peachtree street.

"That's the last known, verified trace of the man we want," a Federal official said today.

THOUSANDS OF TIPS

Reports that Ray was seen later the night of April 5 in a shabby Atlanta nightclub have not been verified — nor have the thousands of tips which have flooded the FBI from citizens eager to aid the hunt for Dr. King's killer.

proximately 450 miles from Memphis to Atlanta after Dr. King was slain the evening of April 4. A white Mustang, matching one spotted leaving the scene of Dr. King's murder and bearing license tags issued to Eric Starvo Galt, was abandoned in Atlanta shortly after dawn on April 5.

The theory that Dr. King's assassin was aided in actually committing the act now is questioned by some Federal officials.

Attorney General Ramsey Clark, who ruled out a conspiracy shortly after Dr. King was killed, has said again recently that there is reason to believe the assassination "was the work of one man."

The fact the FBI charged Ray, under his assumed name of Galt, of conspiring with an "alleged brother" against Dr. King, was seen as a legal device to enable the FBI to take over the murder investigation — normally a state function.

Whoever planned his itinerary, his make-up, his aliases, had a novelist's imagination. Ray, for example, is (or was) a James Bond fan. "Eric Starvo" is one of Bond's suave characters. The name "Galt" was contrived by novelist Ayn Rand, who fashioned the "John Galt" in "Atlas Shrugged" after the late John Gall, one of the most prestigious of capital attorneys and once a power in the iron and steel industry.

So the pseudonym, apparently not the creation of an illiterate, reflects a smooth fellow, suave and dynamic and a leader of men.

No one in the FBI or the Justice Department, despite weeks of questioning, would conjecture over the nature of the conspiratorial cell. It could be Klan-like. But it could be northern as well as southern.

The conspirators could be in Southern Mississippi, Chicago — or even out of the country.

ONE THING is certain. There's been a fantastic search. For example, every "John Willard" (Galt's Memphis boarding-house alias) in the U. S. has been checked out.

Investigators don't put much stock in the interpretation that because Galt-Ray frequented Atlanta and Birmingham, the conspiracy was centered in the deep South. The probes believe that the white car and the Remington rifle were purchased and planted in such a manner that the leads would point southward.

Galt-Ray had Chicago connections of some kind, it's believed. There is obvious evidence, and there are leads which the authorities grimly refuse to discuss. The obvious leads are the letters which Eric Starvo Galt received from Chicago while living in the Birmingham rooming house.

The bureau and the Justice Department, as well as Attorney General Ramsey Clark, are silent because they think too much has been said already.

But there is no doubt that at least 3,000 of the FBI's 6,000 men and virtually all its 600 resident agents (placed so that the FBI can get to any part of the nation in an hour) are working on the murder of Martin Luther King.

This is the second biggest manhunt in history — second only to the probe of the John Kennedy assassination, when each of the bureau's 6,000 agents was involved in some fashion.

WHERE IS Galt-Ray? Of course he can be on any continent. But the prevailing Justice Department theory now is that the killer is in some tiny hamlet or village—so small that big town dailies just aren't followed closely by all the residents.

So the federals now are preparing to get the sniper's photo into these isolated clusters of rural communities. It worked once in a bloody murder case years ago, and the technique may produce results again.

What thought is there of the nature of the conspirators?

There's only conjecture. There literally are thousands of cells made up of men and women capable of planning this murder. They are not all Klan operations either.

Many units have tiny "armies," storm troopers, armband identifications, private uniforms. They drill in secret in lonely woods and curtained basements. They are in the heart of many big cities.

They are of all extremes. They would have the kind of money Galt-Ray spent and still not be wealthy. Or they could be provocateurs.

One thing is certain: The Justice Department believes it has evidence leading to a conspiracy.

FBI suspects Galt part of murder conspiracy

BY VICTOR RIESEL

WASHINGTON, D. C.

The FBI's central Martin Luther King desk, under the personal direction of J. Edgar Hoover, is operating on the hard theory that the Negro leader was the victim of a conspiracy of several or more persons."

There are those high in the Justice Department, therefore, who believe that Eric Starvo Galt-James Earl Ray was a hired killer, heavily paid and amply supplied with cash. Most of this was in $20 bills.

Evidence is piling up inside the bureau to justify investigation of a conspiracy beyond Galt and a man he said was his brother. This evidence moves the case swiftly beyond the conjectures of amateur detectives and dilettante criminologists.

Part of the evidence is the provable free flow of cash (the $7,000) Galt-Ray was able to pour out whenever he needed. In addition to the white Mustang, the dance lessons, the bartenders school fee, the accused assassin crisscrossed the country in a manner no poor man could. The car had 10 miles added to its speedometer.

WHETHER OR not he drove, he is known to have lived well in cities so distant from each other that Galt-Ray would have had to travel more than 15,000 miles in the past nine or 10 months.

Wrong Fingerprints Were Sent In Ray Case by Missouri Prison

ATLANTA, April 26 (AP) — The Georgia Bureau of Investigation discovered yesterday that it had been given an erroneous set of fingerprints identified as belonging to James Earl Ray, wanted in connection with the slaying of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Maj. Barney Ragsdale, director of the Georgia bureau, said a routine comparison of fingerprints received from the Federal Bureau of Investigation with a set sent by the Missouri State Penitentiary after Ray's escape in April, 1967, revealed the discrepancy.

Although both the F.B.I. and the Missouri warden, Harold R. Swenson, said the wanted poster was an error and a correction should have been received shortly after the original was distributed, Major Ragsdale said that his office had never received the correction. Atlanta detective superintendent Clinton Chafin said that his office never got the correction and neither did the state police in Georgia and Alabama.

The warden said the mistake had no effect on the search for Ray.

Mr. Swenson told The Atlanta Constitution that it was the only instance of the wrong fingerprints being put on an official warrant bulletin that he could recall.

Mrs. Oneita Peters, a stenographer with the Georgia bureau, when she received a new wanted poster and noted that the fingerprints were different. She said the difference in the two sets of fingerprints would have been obvious.

Special Agent Frank V. Hitt said meanwhile the prints on the F.B.I. identification order "are Ray's prints."

(KILLER)

WASHINGTON--THE FBI REPORTED NO NEW LEADS TODAY IN THE HUNT FOR THE KILLER OF DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING THOUGH PHOTOGRAPHS OF THE PRIME SUSPECT PROBABLY HAVE BEEN SEEN BY EVERY AMERICAN WHO WATCHES TV OR READS A NEWSPAPER.

THERE WAS NO WAY TO ESTIMATE HOW MANY MILLIONS HAVE SEEN THE PHOTOGRAPH OF JAMES EARL RAY, 40-YEAR-OLD ESCAPEE FROM THE MISSOURI STATE PRISON, WANTED IN THE APRIL 4 SNIPER SLAYING OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS LEADER.

ALL THREE TV NETWORKS HAVE DISPLAYED THE PHOTOGRAPHS ON NEWS PROGRAMS. EVERY MAJOR NEWSPAPER IN THE COUNTRY HAS PUBLISHED THEM.

THE PHOTOS WERE USED ON THE ABC NETWORK SERIES PROGRAM, "THE FBI" LAST NIGHT. IT CLAIMS AN AUDIENCE OF SOME 25 MILLION.

THE FBI SAID IT WAS CHECKING OUT EVERY LEAD PRODUCED BY THIS MASSIVE EXPOSURE.

PLACED ON THE FBI'S LIST OF "MOST WANTED" MEN SUNDAY, RAY'S PICTURE WENT ON VIEW IN POST OFFICES AND OTHER PUBLIC PLACES THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

CANADIAN AND MEXICAN AUTHORITIES ALSO HAVE BEEN ALERTED TO BE ON THE LOOKOUT FOR RAY, WHOM THE FBI FRIDAY IDENTIFIED AS THE MYSTERIOUS ERICK STARVO GALT AFTER A PAINSTAKING CHECK OF MORE THAN 53,000 FINGERPRINTS IN ITS CRIMINAL FILES.

A WARRANT HAD BEEN ISSUED LAST WEDNESDAY FOR GALT AND A PICTURE OF HIM IN A BARTENDER'S UNIFORM WAS WIDELY CIRCULATED.

AMID STRONG INDICATIONS THAT GALT WAS A CAREFULLY CONTRIVED PERSONALITY WHO DID NOT EXIST, THE FBI FRIDAY IDENTIFIED HIM AS RAY ON THE BASIS OF LATENT FINGERPRINTS FOUND IN THE CASE.

TWO PRISON PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN IN 1960 WERE CIRCULATED ALONG WITH THE 1968 PICTURE.

THE FBI WAS NOT EXPECTED TO ISSUE ANY MORE REPORTS UNTIL THE SUSPECT IS APPREHENDED.

What Is a Conspiracy? A-24

The most troubling aspect of the charge laid by the Federal Government against the suspected murderer of Dr. Martin Luther King is that it is drawn in terms of a conspiracy. To the non-lawyer, a conspiracy means a plot hatched by many men, worked out in great detail, and executed with precision. This meaning may attach particularly to that word's use in the King case because of the charge by Negro extremists that white America conspired to kill Dr. King. But the legal meaning of a charge of conspiracy, and the reason such a charge is used in cases like this one, are often quite different from the image the word conspiracy is likely to raise.

In legal terms, a plot laid by two men to commit a crime is just as much a conspiracy as a plot hatched by two hundred. So far, no information has been released that indicates this conspiracy against Dr. King involved more than two men—one of them allegedly Eric Starvo Galt and the other a man described as one the accused said was his brother. If that is the extent of any conspiracy, it is a far cry from the kind of conspiracy the extremists have been shouting about.

More importantly, however, the Justice Department may or may not think it has a valid conspiracy charge in the works when it uses that charge in this kind of case. There is probably no Federal charge other than conspiracy that can be laid against the killer of Dr. King. A murder charge can be filed only by a state, not by the Federal Government. In several civil rights cases in the past, the Government has used the conspiracy charge as a way of keeping full control of the investigation and of bringing its full resources into play. A few years ago, for example, a conspiracy charge was filed in the murder of Medgar Evers, but once the suspect was arrested the conspiracy charge was dropped and no evidence was ever presented to indicate that more than one man participated in that murder. The only other handle the Federal Government has in cases like this is to turn its evidence over to state officials, let them obtain a murder warrant and then ask the FBI to pursue the man as a fugitive. And the FBI is always reluctant to let go of its evidence until a case is sewed up.

It may, of course, turn out that two or more persons were involved in planning the murder of Dr. King. But, on the basis of the information released so far and on the kind of charge placed against Eric Galt, it is presumptuous to leap to such a conclusion.

F.B.I. ACCUSES GALT OF A CONSPIRACY IN DR. KING SLAYING

Alleges a Plot With Man
He Said Was a Brother to Violate Victim's Rights

FUGITIVE WARRANT OUT

Hoover Places Suspect in Memphis at Time of Killing
—Two Photos Released

Text of the F.B.I. statement

By EVERT CLARK

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, April 17 —
The Federal Bureau of Investigation issued a fugitive warrant today charging Eric Starvo Galt, described as a 36-year-old "loner," with conspiracy in the slaying of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Dr. King's assassin has been sought since the civil rights leader was killed by a rifle bullet on the balcony of the Lorraine Motel in Memphis on April 4.

The F.B.I. said Galt conspired beginning about March 29 with a man "whom he alleged to be his brother" to "injure, oppress, threaten or intimidate" Dr. King. The conspiracy continued until about April 5, the agency said.

Attorney General Ramsey Clark announced that Galt was being sought as a fugitive on the charge of having conspired to violate Dr. King's civil rights, in violation of Title 18, Section 241, of the United States Code.

The maximum penalty on conviction under this law is a $5,000 fine and a 10-year prison sentence.

Announcement by Hoover

An announcement by J. Edgar Hoover, F.B.I. director, placed Galt in Memphis at the time of the killing and said he then left for Atlanta.

It said that Galt, "who has used the names of John Willard and Harvey Lowmyer in the past," owned the white 1966 Mustang automobile bearing Alabama license plates that was found abandoned in Atlanta one week after the assassination.

John Willard was the name given to a man who fled from a rooming house near the Lorraine Motel just after Dr. King was shot. The man had taken a room in the house, and the fatal shot is believed to have been fired from a bathroom window there.

There was no explanation of the Lowmyer alias.

The Mustang found in Atlanta resembled one seen speeding away from the assassination area.

Sources close to investigators in Memphis said that the Memphis police had almost run Galt down as they went to the murder scene.

The Federal warrant was issued in Birmingham, Ala., where Mr. Hoover said that a .30-'06-caliber rifle equipped with a telescopic sight had been found near a rooming house on South Main Street in Memphis immediately after the shooting. He said an F. B. I. agent had determined that that rifle and a telescopic sight was bought from a gun dealer in Birmingham on March 30.

Suspect Described

The announcement did not directly link Galt to the rifle found in Memphis or say that the .30-'06 was the weapon that killed Dr. King.

Galt was described as 5 feet 8 to 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighing between 160 and 175 pounds and having "brush-cut" brown hair and blue eyes.

"He is said to be a neat dresser and has a medium build," the F.B.I. said.

Those who have met him describe him as a loner and say his "language and diction have a 'rural' quality and suggest that he probably does not have a high degree of education," the agency said.

Galt was said to like vodka, beer and Western and country music and to have a nervous habit of occasionally pulling at an ear lobe, the F.B.I. added. "His left ear protrudes farther from his head than his right ear," it said.

The F.B.I. released two photographs of Galt, one with his eyes closed and another containing a notation on the back: "Eyes drawn in by F.B.I. artist."

The man whom the agency said Galt had alleged was his brother was not further identified in the announcement here.

Galt traveled extensively in this country and went to Mexico after he bought the white Mustang from a private citizen in Birmingham last Aug. 30, Mr. Hoover said. The car's odometer showed the Mustang had been driven more than 19,000 miles since the purchase, the F.B.I. director said. "Galt's travels in the Mustang included trips to Los Angeles, New Orleans, Birmingham and Mexico as well to Memphis and Atlanta," the F.B.I. announcement said.

The suspect left Los Angeles last Dec. 15, drove to New Orleans and "claimed he contacted either an engineering firm or a contracting firm," according to the agency.

He left New Orleans four days later and arrived in Los Angeles on Dec. 21. The agency said.

There was no indication why he had been in touch with the company.

Took Bartending Course

While he was in Los Angeles, Galt "took a course at a school of bartending and was graduated on March 2, 1968," the agency said.

The announcement did not attempt to trace Galt's whereabouts day by day or even week by week. But it placed him in New Orleans in 1964 and 1965, in Birmingham last September and October and in Long Beach, Calif., from last December until last February by saying he took dancing lessons in those places at those times.

"He is said to be an avid dancer," the announcement said.

It also said intensive investigation by the F.B.I. had disclosed that Galt "has claimed to have been employed as a cook on Mississippi River vessels and as a merchant seaman."

Galt should be considered "armed and dangerous" and any information about him should be furnished immediately to the nearest F.B.I. office, the announcement added.

The F.B.I. refused to say where it got Galt's photograph. The pictures show him in a dark suit and a neat, dark bow tie; he might have been wearing a tuxedo at the time. One picture appeared to have been cut out and placed on a different background, as though it might have been taken from a group picture, such as one taken at a nightclub.

Sketch Shown Previously

The photographs were the first to be connected with the case, although F.B.I. agents have been showing a full-face sketch of a suspect to hundreds of persons all through the South.

There was nothing in today's statements to indicate what role the F.B.I. thought the alleged other conspirator played, or whether there might be still other suspected conspirators.

Galt's name was first publicly linked with the King murder on April 11, when an F.B.I. bulletin was released in Florida, apparently by mistake, and later withdrawn. The bulletin asked that Galt be located for questioning.

On April 12 the Mustang was found in Atlanta. It apparently had been parked there since about 12 hours after the murder. It was impounded after residents of the housing development where it was found noted that it matched the description of the car wanted in the murder.

The section of the United States Code under which Galt is accused states:

"If two or more persons conspire to injure, oppress, threaten, or intimidate any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution or laws of the United States, or because of his having so exercised the same; or

"If two or more persons go in disguise on the highway, or on the premises of another, with intent to prevent or hinder his free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege so secured—

"They shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than 10 years, or both."

Memphis Hopes to Try Galt

MEMPHIS, April 17 (UPI)—Tennessee authorities indicated tonight that they would file murder charges in the assassination of Dr. King.

"That will be our immediate consideration," Memphis Fire and Police Director Frank Holloman said in answer to a question of whether there were plans to issue a warrant for the arrest of Galt.

"We look forward to the apprehension of this individual and his ultimate return to Memphis for trial for the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.," Mr. Holloman said.

He would not elaborate on the statement.

F.B.I.'s Statement on the Hunt for Galt

46 Following is the text of a statement released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation yesterday concerning a warrant issued for Eric Starvo Galt in the slaying of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.:

Attorney General Ramsey Clark announced today that Eric Starvo Galt is being sought by the F.B.I. as a fugitive on a Federal charge arising from the fatal shooting of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Memphis, Tenn., on April 4, 1968.

Director J. Edgar Hoover stated that a Federal complaint was filed by the F.B.I. in Birmingham, Ala., today charging Galt with conspiring to violate the civil rights of Dr. King in violation of Title 18, Section 241 of the United States Code.

The F.B.I. complaint charges that "on or about March 29, 1968, in Birmingham, Ala., Eric Starvo Galt and an individual whom he alleged to be his brother, entered into a conspiracy which continued until on or about April 5, 1968, to injure, oppress, threaten, or intimidate Martin Luther King Jr. in the free exercise or enjoyment of a right secured to him by the constitution or laws of the United States; namely, the right to freely travel from state to state. In furtherance of this conspiracy Eric Starvo Galt did, on or about March 30, 1968, purchase a rifle at Birmingham, Ala.

Rifle Found

According to Mr. Hoover, a .30'06 rifle equipped with a telescopic sight was found near a rooming house on South Main Street in Memphis immediately after the fatal shooting of Dr. King occurred. The rooming house overlooks the Lorraine Hotel and Motel where Dr. King was staying.

Mr. Hoover said that F.B.I. agents determined that the .30-'06 rifle had been purchased from a gun dealer in Birmingham, Ala., on March 30, 1968. The telescopic sight was also purchased from this dealer.

The F.B.I. director said that Galt, who has used the names of John Willard and Harvey Lowmyer in the past, is the owner of a 1966 white Mustang bearing Alabama license plates which was located abandoned in Atlanta, Ga., on April 11, 1968.

Investigation disclosed that Galt purchased this car from a private citizen in Birmingham on Aug. 30, 1967. The Mustang odometer showed that it had been driven more than 19,000 miles between late August 1967, and early April 1968.

According to Mr. Hoover, Galt's travels in the Mustang included trips to Los Angeles, Calif.; New Orleans, La.; Birmingham, Ala., and Mexico, as well as to Memphis, Tenn., and Atlanta, Ga. Galt was reported to have been in Memphis on April 3 and 4, 1968, and to have departed from there for Atlanta.

Avid Dancer

Intensive investigation by the F.B.I. has disclosed that Galt has claimed to have been in Florida as a cook on Mississippi River vessels and as a merchant seaman. He is said to be an avid dancer and took dancing lessons in New Orleans in 1964 and 1965; in Birmingham between September and October, 1967, and in Long Beach, Calif., from December, 1967, to February, 1968.

Galt left Los Angeles on Dec. 15, 1967, and drove his white Mustang to New Orleans, where he claimed he contacted either an engineering or contracting firm. He left New Orleans on Dec.

and arrived back in Los Angeles on Dec. 21, 1967.

While in the Los Angeles area earlier this year, Galt took a course at a school of bartending and was graduated on March 2, 1968.

The fugitive is described as a white male. He is approximately 5 feet 8 inches to 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs between 160 and 175 pounds. He is said to be a neat dresser and has a medium build.

Galt has brown hair which he wears in a "brush" cut. He reportedly has blue eyes; his nose is straight and narrow; his teeth are straight and clean; and he has given his date of birth as July 29, 1931.

Nervous Habit

The fugitive is said to have a nervous habit of occasionally pulling at an ear lobe with his hand. His left ear protrudes farther from his head than his right ear.

According to Mr. Hoover, persons who have met Galt describe him as a "loner" and state his language and diction have a "rural" quality and suggest that he probably does not have a high degree of education. He is said to drink alcoholic beverages and has a preference for vodka and beer. He is a fan of Western and country music.

The Federal statute under which Galt has been charged provides a maximum penalty of 10 years imprisonment and/or $5,000 fine. Bond of $50,000 has been recommended.

Galt should be considered armed and dangerous. Any information concerning him should be furnished immediately to the nearest F.B.I. office.

Midnight Memorial Vigil in Times Square by DuBois Club

By MICHAEL JAY

HUNDREDS OF New Yorkers staged a memorial vigil for Dr. Martin Luther King in front of the Allied Chemical Building in Times Square. The demonstration was hurriedly organized by members of the Brooklyn College DuBois Club after members learned of King's murder in Memphis.

At 11:45 p.m., as the news flashed across the building's news sign, the Du Bois members assembled with their own signs. "He Had A Dream," read one placard, "An End To Racial Oppression." "He Died For Freedom," said another.

man with tears in his eyes. A group of black youths gathered near the demonstration. They did not join the line.

Several chided the demonstrators, who remained silent. Others argued that the white mourners were not the enemy of America's oppressed black people.

At about 12:30 a.m., a dozen young black people left the area in front of the building and began to run uptown on Broadway, with policemen in hot pursuit. One store window was broken. Several Negroes were arrested.

At 1:10, there were about 100 people in front of the Allied

The group was quickly joined by passersby.

At the outset, most of the participants were white. Before the night was over, there was a racially-mixed group of several hundred encircling the building.

"Who Died For Freedom? Martin Luther King!" they chanted, as a dozen policemen looked on. It lasted almost all night.

Early in the demonstration, it appeared as though there might be trouble. Young black people stared angrily at the white mourners. "You killed my brother, whitey," said one young

They were soon joined by over 150 people who had marched down Broadway from 103 Street. It was a racially mixed group.

When the people in front of the building saw them coming down the street, they cheered. The cheers were returned by the oncoming group.

The two groups joined.

The merged group was somber. The people were mourning, but they were also angry. Nobody cared what time it was.

Special to The Worker

ATLANTA — More than 500,000 Americans from all over the country — black and white — marched here last Tuesday to pay their last tribute to the martyred national leader, Dr. Martin Luther King, and to express their determination to move immediately to achieve the objectives set by Dr. King: black liberation, an end to poverty for all, peace in Vietnam and in the world.

Topping the agenda for the future in the minds of the vast throng were the National March of the Poor to Washington beginning April 22, and the organization of the unorganized workers in the South as exemplified in the long and bitter struggle of the Negro garbage workers in Memphis.

The makings of the great national coalition that could bring to reality the program enunciated by Dr. King were present in the magnificent gathering here.

There were many dignitaries at the funeral ceremonies: politicians, religionists, bankers, community leaders, labor chieftains. Some of them had come out of a sincere desire to express their grief, many others in fearful response to the pressure from the people of the country.

But the truly significant aspect of the tremendous march was that it was the expression of the ordinary people of the nation. The marchers and watchers were thousands of the super-exploited and oppressed Negro people. There were the nation's poor. There were thousands of rank-and-file labor unionists. They were there to guarantee the future.

Symbolic of the composition and character of the marchers was the faded-green, rough-planked farm cart, pulled by two mules, which carried the coffin containing Dr. King's body through Atlanta's streets.

The keynote for the South and for the future struggles had been sounded the day before in Memphis, where 60,000 working people from all over the U.S. had marched in support of the 1,300 striking garbage workers and for the right of all workers to organize.

Speaking to the cheering crowd, the Rev. Dr. Ralph D. Abernathy, now head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference said:

"I am not going to lead my people part of the way. I am going to take them all the way. We are bound for the promised land. We ain't going to let nobody . . . we ain't going to let nobody . . . we ain't going to let nobody . . . turn us around."

"I want to call on the nation that I love to let my people go."

"I want to call on the Congress of the United States to feed the hungry in the land. . . . I want to call on the Congress of the United States to end the war in Vietnam for we are sick and tired of black men dying in Vietnam when they cannot live decently at home."

Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. told the Memphis marchers:

"Those of you who believed in what Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. stood for, I would challenge you today to see that his spirit never dies, and that we will go forward from this experience — which to me represents the crucifixion — on toward the resurrection and redemption of his spirit."

The spirit of the marches here was expressed in their own words as they walked under the hot sun. A middle-aged Negro woman said:

"I was with the movement in Montgomery. I walked then till he said ride. I feel like I was a part of him, or he was a part of me. Whatever he said do, I was right there. He gave my spirit courage. I'll walk to the end with him all the way."

A Negro school teacher who had come from Detroit, declared:

"It doesn't seem like a hard march. Perhaps, it's the cause. Maybe this will go further than the United States, maybe it will help when America and Hanoi sit down at the table."

The voice of another black woman, who had lived two blocks away from the martyred Dr. King, rang through the streets, eloquent with grief and hope, as she sang:

"Black and white, we shall overcome."

boycott of all Easter finery this year, and for a work stoppage by black workers and those allied with them.

A 48-hour vigil initiated by the Peace Action Council came to an end Monday noon in downtown Pershing Square with a memorial rally. The vigil took place in front of the Federal Building, and numbered between 50 and 200 at all times.

In Pasadena, Burbank, Long Beach, Van Nuys and many other communities mass meetings, memorials and rallies were held. In Wrigley Field Monday afternoon hundreds turned out unionists, most of them members of District 65, Retail Wholesale Department Store Union, AFL-CIO, held a demonstration in the garment center Monday. The throng, which stretched across 7th Avenue between 35th and 38th Streets, heard "white racism" denounced as the killer of Dr. King.

Fatal King Bullet Reported Too Scarred to Identify

By MARTIN WALDRON
Special to The New York Times

MEMPHIS, Tenn. April 11—Predictions by the Memphis police and by Attorney General Ramsey Clark of a quick arrest in the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. have not materialized.

Dr. King was shot to death on the balcony of a Memphis motel a week ago tonight.

And despite what Mr. Clark called an "unusually large amount of physical evidence," the four men known to have been questioned since the slaying have all been released.

Two of the men were law students who were in Memphis last week to help plan a civil rights demonstration. The third was a bald-headed man arrested over the weekend near the assassination site, and the fourth was a minister arrested Tuesday in Joplin, Mo.

Saw Man Drop Rifle

According to a report today, the bullet that killed Dr. King had been smashed and laboratory technicians of the Federal Bureau of Investigation had been unable to match it with the Remington .30-06 caliber rifle believed to have been the assassin's weapon.

Witnesses said that the rifle had been discarded by a long-nosed young man who ran from a rooming house near Dr. King's motel immediately after the shooting.

The F.B.I. refused to comment in the report that the bullet could not be identified. But the report was consistent with information furnished by a source in Memphis, who said that the bullet was a soft-nosed and had been squashed, apparently when it hit Dr. King's left shoulder blade.

Soft-nosed bullets are used in big game hunting because they expand on contact and do much more damage than do the steel-jacketed bullets used by soldiers.

The Remington .30-06 caliber rifle cartridges are powerful enough to kill a man at a distance of more than a half-mile.

In an other development today, the Remington Company at Bridgeport, Conn., confirmed that one of its 30-'06 rifles had been traced by the F.B.I. through its serial number.

A company spokesman said, however, that employees had been told not to give out information such as where the rifle had been shipped to be sold at retail.

The rifle apparently purchased by the assassin or an accomplice in Birmingham, Ala., last week. A clerk at a gun store near the Birmingham Airport said that the F.B.I. had checked the store's records, but she denied that the rifle was sold there. "That is just a rumor," she said.

There has been no information released on what the many fingerprints found at the site of the shooting revealed.

Frank C. Holloman, director of the Memphis Police and Fire Departments, said on the night of the murder that the sniper had fired from the bathroom of a second-floor rooming house 205 feet from the spot on the balcony of the Lorraine Hotel and Motel where Dr. King was standing.

Detectives found a handprint and numerous fingerprints in the bathroom.

The police refused to say today whether there were any further developments in the investigation of false police broadcasts that drew police attention away from downtown Memphis about 30 minutes after Dr. King was shot.

False reports of a dramatic car chase, including the firing of shots between a white Mustang and a blue Pontiac, were broadcast over the central police radio shortly after Dr. King had been taken to a hospital.

Witnesses near the scene of the shooting had given statements that led police to believe that the assassin had fled in a white Mustang.

The police dispatcher making the broadcast said that the descriptions of a chase were being fed to him by "police car 160."

A review of a tape recording of the broadcast showed that at one point the dispatcher said that the officer in police car 160 had gotten information from a "complainant."

There was speculation in the Police Department today that Lieut. R. W. Bradshaw, the officer who was assigned to car 160 on the night of the murder, might have been relaying information furnished to him over a citizens band radio.

Lieutenant Bradshaw refused to comment.

In another aspect of the investigation, F.B.I. agents in Mississippi and Alabama were known to have been checking the whereabouts on the night of the murder of known violent segregationists.

The inquiries included many members of the Ku Klux Klan.

So far, the agents have been unable to turn up any useful leads, a source said.
