DAVE WELLS is the Purchasing Agent for Blough, Inc., Jackson Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee.

ROSCOE SMITH, a salesman for Vulcan Binding Company, visited him at the Plough Plant last week. Through a review of the registrations of visitors coming to the plant, he was able to determine that ROSCOE SMITH registered April 1, 1968, and was given badge number 299.

WELLS stated that SMITH told him he was residing at the Chisca Hotel in Memphis and that his residence is Birmingham, Alabama.

It is WELLS' understanding that SMITH has been in the sales field for Vulcan for at least six or seven years.

WELLS further advised that when he noticed SMITH walked dragging his toes, WELLS was told that SMITH had muscular sclerosis. He was afflicted with this following his discharge from the Army Air Force after World War II. SMITH told him that he wears out the toes of a pair of shoes in a month.

WELLS described SMITH as follows:

Race	White
Sex	Male
Age	38 to 39
Height	5'10"
Weight	155 pounds
Build	Slim
Facial Characteristic	Weathered face
Hair	Sandy, in a burr cut

WELLS stated that SMITH's hair stood straight up and he did not believe it could be brushed or combed back due to its shortness.

It is WELLS' understanding that SMITH had been with Vulcan Binding Company of Birmingham a few years back, left them to go with General Binding of St. Louis at St. Louis, Missouri, and about six years ago returned to the employ of Vulcan Binding in Birmingham, Alabama.

SMITH visits the Plough Plant every three to four months. WELLS did note that in 1966 there was no visit made by SMITH to Plough. When he returned, after an absence of a year, he learned that the Plough business had, due to his lack of visits, been given to a competitor. However, there was no excuse or reason given by SMITH for his prolonged absence and no inquiry was made of him by WELLS.

It is WELLS' understanding that SMITH can be located at any time through contacting RAY MILLER of Vulcan Binding, whom he believes is the Sales Manager.

SMITH also told WELLS that he, because of his affliction, buys large size cars so that he can enjoy a maximum of comfort during the extensive travel required of him in connection with his employment.

During the last visit of SMITH, the discussion did arise relative to the racial situation at Memphis and the striking sanitation workers. SMITH did not get excited or agitated during the discussion and spoke in a cordial objective mood. In fact, WELLS stated that he has never seen SMITH in a bad mood. Although he cannot recall the source, WELLS presumes that it was SMITH, himself, who told him that he, SMITH, owns part of the Vulcan business.

WELLS further advised that he does not know if SMITH is a hobbist or has any interest in or ability to use firearms of any type.

~~In conclusion, he stated that the only person who~~
~~might have additional information concerning ROSCOE SMITH~~
~~would be WALTER UNDERWOOD, who formerly worked for Plough~~
~~and is now in the advertising field for Holiday Inn.~~

Date April 10, 1968

NOEL M. KELLY resides at 4563 Windward Drive, Memphis, Tennessee, and is the Secretary-Treasurer of the Bond's Welding and Supply Company, 805 South Main Street.

KELLY stated that ROSCOE SMITH is known to him as a salesman for Vulcan Binder and Cover Company of Birmingham, Alabama. SMITH initially came to his company when Bond was interested in putting out some catalogues relative to their products. RALPH BROWN was the Sales Manager at the time and had been referred to make inquiries of Vulcan by the Sales Manager of A. R. Taylor Company.

By the time Vulcan made their first visit to Bond, represented by ROSCOE SMITH, it was December, 1967. Bond already had given the catalogue business to another company since they wanted it distributed by Christmastime and the catalogues were in the office at the time SMITH arrived.

The second time SMITH came to Bond was at approximately 1:00 p.m., in the afternoon on April 4, 1968. He gave his calling card to the receptionist, MARY ALICE MALONE, and asked for RALPH BROWN. Since BROWN had left the company for other employment, SMITH was referred to Mr. KELLY.

KELLY stated that the individual entered his office and appeared to be a white male American of approximately 40 years of age or just shy of 40. He was about 5'10", 165 pounds, with a long nose, a protruding jaw and light brown or sandy hair.

KELLY described the hair as in the stages of growing out of a crew cut and was thinning. The hair line on both sides of the temples receded a bit.

KELLY stated that his impression of this individual was very similar to the sketch which appeared in one of the Memphis daily newspapers of the suspected assassin of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. He believes this sketch was prepared by a press representative.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

It is KELLY's understanding, through conversation which transpired with SMITH, that SMITH has a 14-year-old son and a 15-year-old daughter.

SMITH sat down in KELLY's office and after asking what had happened to RALPH BROWN, started discussing things in general, including the racial problem and the march which was scheduled to take place in Memphis. He also discussed the march of supporters of the sanitation workers strike which had occurred the preceding Thursday.

KELLY, who stated that he, himself, is from Mississippi, mutually discussed the racial problems with SMITH, mentioning how business had suffered at Birmingham due to boycotts instigated by Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. SMITH also mentioned the inconveniences imposed on people and the business customer losses, much of which would never be recovered.

KELLY said that he agreed with the thoughts of SMITH during the discussion and gave examples to him of how the neighboring business had suffered, naming a particular man, who was unable to pay for his insurance and upkeep as a direct result of the strike.

KELLY said that SMITH stated "They are making another Jesus out of KING."

KELLY stated that the more SMITH talked on the subject the more agitated he seemed to get and KELLY was of the opinion that SMITH's eyes took on a glazed appearance. KELLY said that this glazed or glassy appearance was noticeably in that SMITH appeared to be looking, not at him, but through him, at an unseen object.

KELLY further stated that periodically during the conversation SMITH would interrupt himself to pass a few jokes and during this conversation also, MARY ALICE MALONE, the receptionist and secretary, entered the room and listened to what SMITH had to say.

Included in SMITH's conversations in the presence of MARY ALICE MALONE was the fact that he won all of his arguments with his wife at home and that he was the "perfect man." SMITH further said that he had written a Readers Digest article in 1963 entitled "The Perfect Man."

Concerning discipline at home, SMITH told KELLY that all disciplinary matters relative to the children were stored up and referred to him by his wife when he got home.

KELLY said that SMITH told him, and he believes this was in jest, that at one time recently he had brought his wife to Memphis and introduced her to his girl friend, a cashier at the Chisca Hotel. KELLY said that just the tone alone that SMITH used indicated to him that this was a matter of jest and not of fact.

Abruptly, SMITH returned to the topic of marches and the racial situation at Memphis and said that "something should be done to stop this nonsense." SMITH did not say anything specific and did not give any indication of a positive action to be taken on his part.

SMITH told KELLY that the girls at the Birmingham office of Vulcan Binder and Cover Company questioned SMITH when he said he was going to Memphis and he said that he told the girls of the office that he had no reason not to go to Memphis and he was not afraid of MARTIN LUTHER KING.

After approximately an hour of this conversation, KELLY tired of listening to him and began rattling and folding papers on his desk. He hoped that SMITH would take the hint and leave.

It was at about this time that the other girl of the office, BARBARA HARDIN, returned from lunch. KELLY said that this would be approximately 2:00 p.m., and she came into the office for a moment or two while SMITH was speaking.

It is KELLY's recollection that SMITH, in his conversation, noted that he had just left Birmingham that morning. As a result, KELLY does not know how long SMITH was in Memphis or when he arrived. After a few additional moments of conversation, none of which was relative to the products of the Vulcan Binder and Cover Company, SMITH got up and left the office. KELLY said that he saw SMITH go out the front door of the building, since his, KELLY's office, is on street level at the front of the building. SMITH went out the front door and started to cross the street toward a row of cars. His walk was an even gait, but he appeared to keep his toes constantly on the ground or, if they did leave the pavement, it was for a very brief period of time. KELLY said that it was also as though he were "pigeon-toed."

At this time, KELLY was distracted by the telephone and when he looked up again SMITH was out of sight. KELLY does not know if he entered any of the cars across the street or walked up around the corner. There had been a late model Pontiac sedan, parked across the street from the office, light blue in color, which was no longer there five or ten minutes later when KELLY again looked out. He does not know if SMITH entered this automobile or departed in some other car.

He cannot recall SMITH mentioning any associates or anything much about himself other than his perfection.

SMITH had been wearing a dark colored suit, probably brown and was in typical business attire of a white dress shirt and tie.

KELLY periodically referred to the fact there was a $100,000 reward offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the assassin of Dr. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR., and conjectured as to when the local officials of the City of Memphis and the private groups sponsoring this reward would pay him should this person, SMITH, be the true assassin.

ARCHIE EUGENE BURNSIDE, 7769 East Navy Circle, Millington, Tennessee, advised that he is an AML in the U. S. Coast Guard, is currently stationed at the Naval Air Station in Millington where he is going to school.

On April 4, 1968, BURNSIDE was in class from 7:00 a.m., to 4:30 p.m. The class is taught by Chief VINES. After class, BURNSIDE and another classmate, CHARLES BUTLER, went to the Memphis Navy Golf Course in Millington where they had a pitcher of beer. They left the golf course about 5:30 p.m., or 5:45 p.m., and proceeded home. BURNSIDE said he arrived home shortly after 6:00 p.m. His wife came home from work at shortly after 7:00 p.m.

BURNSIDE advised he owns two automobiles, a gold 1964 Avanti and a 1957 pink and white Chevrolet Nomad stationwagon. He normally drives the stationwagon while his wife drives the Avanti to work.

On the evening of April 4, 1968, BURNSIDE got out of class at 4:30 p.m., then he and BUTLER changed clothes and started for home in BUTLER's car. The traffic was very heavy so they decided to go to the bar at the golf course for a few beers until the traffic had subsided. They arrived at the bar at about 4:45 p.m., and were there for about 45 minutes. While they were at the bar they talked to a young man who works in the pro shop. However, BURNSIDE could not remember his name. After leaving the bar they drove straight to BURNSIDE's home where they arrived at about 6:00 p.m. BURNSIDE remained there for the rest of the night.

BURNSIDE said the last time he was on leave and away from the Naval Air Station was either the week of February 13, 1968, or the week of February 20, 1968. This break was in between a change in classes at the Naval Air Station. He went to Dade City, Florida, where he visited his aunt, ESSIE MAE BLITCH, who lives at 116 West Church Street, Dade City. He has not been out of Millington since his trip to Florida.

said anything to indicate bitter feelings toward MARTIN LUTHER KING. He has never said anything to anyone to indicate he may wish to kill KING. He indicated he has nothing against Negroes and considers himself to be a person of very benevolent nature. BURNSIDE indicated his wife, MARY, works at Al's Furniture Mart in Millington.

BURNSIDE did admit that his father was killed in Tampa, Florida, during the riots there in June and July, 1967. His father was stomped to death, but the authorities could not determine if this had been done by whites or Negroes. BURNSIDE said he was not sure whether it had been done by Negroes, but felt his father was better off dead because he was an alcoholic and beyond any help as far as BURNSIDE was concerned.

Mr. NELSON BONE, Office Manager and Accountant for Patton-Tully Transportation Company, 1242 North Second Street, Memphis, Tennessee, was interviewed in the presence of Lt. JAMES HAMBY, Homicide Bureau, Memphis Police Department.

Mr. BONE advised that Patton-Tully Transportation Company is probably the next to the largest employer of non-union as well as union seamen in the Memphis area. He advised they do not hire too many employees but that they do have a fast turnover. He stated most of the employees voluntarily make application for employment, or they obtain their employees through Waterways Marine, Inc., located at the foot of Beale Street in Memphis, Tennessee. Mr. BONE advised a review of their firm's personnel and/or payroll records fails to indicate an employee currently or during 1967 under the name of GALT, LEMEYER, WILLARD, or variations of these names.

Mr. BONE was shown a composite drawing of an individual who identified himself as JOHN WILLARD when he purchased binoculars at the York Arms Company on April 4, 1968, and Mr. BONE advised he does not recall an individual ever working for this firm or making application for employment at this firm that resembled this composite drawing.

Mr. BONE advised that in the event he receives any information or if an individual using the name of GALT, LEMEYER, or WILLARD should make application for employment, he will immediately furnish this information to the FBI.
